AUXILIARY POWER PLANT RECOMMENDED BY CITY MANAGER TO COMMITTEE

Official States His Views in Communication To Citizens' Bond Body; Proposes Gradual Development to Meet Requirements

Recommendation that Glendale build and operate a $300,000 auxiliary power plant is made by City Manager Virgil B. Stone to the electric power plant sub-committee of the citizens' Bond committee. This report is released by Roy L. Kent, chairman of the sub-committee, and appears below in full:

"A plant to be of sufficient size to care for the present demand of the city should be large enough to pull our entire pumping load, our street lighting load and of sufficient surplus to take care of emergency lights and power in case of any shortage of the present source of supply. It should be also large enough to allow for the reasonable growth of the city for five years to come. In my opinion, this would require at least a 2500 K. W. plant, or about 3125 horse power. Such a plant would cost, with building and equipment, but not including the land, in the neighborhood of $300,000. I believe the citizens of the city of Glendale would vote this amount for this purpose.

"A plant of this capacity would be large enough to carry a good part of our peak load at all times of the year, thereby balancing our load and giving us a better rate from the Southern California Edison company. The saving thus made would, to a large extent, offset the interest on the bonds necessary to build such a plant.

Site Is Available

"The city has a site that could probably be used for this purpose without acquiring any additional land, but the conditions that govern the use of this land are such that this point would require some investigation before I would be ready to state that it would not be better to acquire additional land for this purpose.

"Investigations already made indicate that it would take from four to five months to obtain delivery on the special type of generating equipment necessary for such a plant. The switchboard would be a special design and would have to be built to serve this particular plant. A great deal of thought should be given to the type of motive power and the best type of fuel for such a plant. In my opinion, a steam plant with a turbine engine directly connected to a 2500 K. W. generator would be the proper installation. The agents of the internal combustion engines, particularly the Diesel, of course, would make every effort to have an engine of that type installed. I would not recommend such an engine for so large a plant. It can be safely stated that 90 per cent of all the plants in the country that are efficient and up to date are using the steam turbine. The type of building to be constructed, of course, would be of special design for power plant purposes. To build the building and install the machinery for this plant would take from six months to one year before the plant would be in commission.

Supply City Power

"In a crisis similar to our present power shortage, such a plant would be large enough to insure us street lights and water and with the proper conservation on the part of citizens in the use of light, carry us through a prolonged period of power shortage. With the amount of current that could be furnished by the Edison company, such a plant would enable us to have regular and uninterrupted service during a long period of drought.

"To look farther into the future on the question of proper design, a building built at this time should be so designed that, if the future indicated it to be the proper thing to do, we could install additional machinery in this building sufficient to carry the entire load of the city.

"It would not be good judgment to recommend a plant large enough for the entire use of the city and its normal growth for several years to come for the reason that such a plant would be at least of 10,000 horse power capacity and would cost the city in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. Before such a plant could be in operation, the present drought would be over and the demand for a plant large enough to carry the entire load would not exist. With a plant of 3,000 horse power capacity, we would be enabled to obtain a rate from the Edison company that would give us a supply of electricity cheaper than we could possibly generate it, if we had a complete plant large enough for our entire needs.

Edison Co.'s Plans

We must not be blind to the fact that the Edison company is spending at this time hundreds of millions of dollars for the enlargement of their storage and generating equipment and by this time next year, we will be out of danger of any recurrence of our present conditions as a result of shortage of rainfall in the High Sierras. Since the Southern California Edison company is spending these millions of dollars in safeguarding themselves against a shortage of power, it is to our advantage to use as far as we can their facilities where it will be an economical saving to this community.

"I would not recommend the voting of anything like a million dollars at one time for a plant for this city when our needs are such that we can do better along other lines, and if the conditions from time to time warrant an increase in the size of our plant, it can be added to from earnings and from bond issues that may become necessary in the future. It would be best to build a plant over a period of years rather than to attempt to do it at one time and in a way that would be detrimental to the best interests of the property owners of the city of Glendale.

Surplus of Gas

"I believe your investigations will verify my judgment that the question of fuel will be solved along these lines. At the present time the gas company, now supplying our city, has a surplus of natural gas and we could probably obtain a very advantageous contract for gas for fuel, but we must keep this fully before us that such a contract would be exactly in relation to fuel what our present contract for lights is in relation to water for hydroelectric generating of electricity. In other words, if the gas company continues over a period of years to have a surplus of natural gas, we would obtain it at the prices specified in the contract, but if for any reason there should be interruption in their supply from any cause, either the playing out of their gas fields in Kern county, at Long Beach or Santa Fe Springs, from a break in their main line, or from any other cause, and they notify us that they cannot longer supply us with gas, our plant would have to shut down until this condition could be remedied. I consider that being at the mercy of the gas company for gas is just as precarious as being at the mercy of the hydroelectric company for electric current.

"Therefore you will probably find that in the solution of the fuel question it will be good judgment to recommend that a contract be drawn to the best advantage possible using gas for fuel, and providing for the storage of oil and having on hand at all times the oil and oil burners ready to install in case we have to pull the gas burners.

Use Gas and Oil

"The future operation of the plant would be that of using gas when we have gas and oil when the gas has failed. Although this would increase the cost of the installation of an auxiliary plant to some extent, it is absolutely necessary that it be done.

"I would ask your committee to discuss with Mr. Diederich, our superintendent of plant and production, as well as with any other experts, the points I am bringing up in relation to this and that you get in touch with the manufacturers of switchboard, generating and power equipment and make your recommendations to the council as soon as possible so that we may proceed with the preliminary plans if your recommendation is that we build an auxiliary plant. We cannot begin too soon to obtain this very necessary addition to our electrical department."

EXTRA! New Hours For Power Shut Off

Another change is announced for light and power shut off in Glendale.

Beginning tomorrow, Tuesday, light and power will be shut off from 6 a. m. to 8 a. m. every day until further notice.

This announcement was telephoned to The Glendale Evening News at 1 o'clock this afternoon from Los Angeles by Peter Diederich, superintendent of plant and production for Glendale. He was in Los Angeles attending a conference of the state railroad commission, officials of power companies and municipal authorities.

Daylight saving was not discussed at the meeting. Superintendent Diederich favors daylight saving provided the whole state adopts it or at least, the southern section.

The new order for shut off, from 6 a. m. to 8 a. m., effective tomorrow, will remain in force until further natice, says Superintendent Diederich. In the meantime, he points out, a rigid program of conservation of lights must be made by every householder, business firm and institution.

QUICK ACTION FOR PLANT IS EASY

City Already Owns Poles, Wires, Transformers and Other Equipment

The time necessary to establish a municipal power plant in Glendale would not be as long as the average layman thinks, declared William H. Reeves, former city manager of Glendale, city electrician of Pasadena, when the municipal plant was erected there, and an electrical engineer, in speaking of the light and power situation in this city.

"Many people think it would take months and months to put in such a plant and get it in working order, delivering electricity to homes, industries and business houses," he said. "The time ordinarily taken would be greatly reduced by the fact that the city owns all poles, wires, transformers, meters, and other necessary electrical equipment along this line.

"It would not be necessary to take several months to 'cut over' from the present system to the

INDICT FALL, DOHENY AND SINCLAIR

Conspiracy to Defraud U. S. And Bribery Charged By Grand Jury

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Indictments charging conspiracy to defraud the United States in connection with the leasing of naval oil lands in California and Wyoming were returned today by a special federal grand jury against former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall, Harry F. Sinclair and Edward L. Doheny, multimillionaire oil magnates, and the latter's son, Edward L. Doheny, Jr.

In addition to the conspiracy charges, Fall and Doheny were indicted for bribery, the charge being the giving of $100,000 to the secretary of the interior by the oil magnate.

By Special Counsel

Four indictments were obtained from the grand jury by Owen J. Roberts and Atlee Pomerene, the special counsel named by President Coolidge to conduct the oil lease litigation, following the exhaustive investigation made by the Senate public lands committee under the direction of Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat, Montana.

Bribery Charged

The indictments charge (1) Fall and Doheny with conspiracy to defraud the government through the leasing of the Elk Hills oil reserve in California; (2) Fall and Sinclair with conspiracy to defraud the government through the leasing of the Teapot Dome reserve in Wyoming; (3) Fall with accepting a bribe from Doheny; (4) Doheny and his son with offering and giving a bribe to Fall.

ROME, June 30—Italian troops attacked a force of Arab rebels in Tripoli, killing 179, said a dispatch from Cyrenica today. The Italian casualties were three killed, thirty wounded.

STORM DEAD 88; DAMAGE 30 MILLIONS

Lorain Under Martial Law as Rescue Crews Search Ruins for Bodies

CLEVELAND, June 30.—The known dead thus far in the cyclone Saturday night in Ohio total 88, as follows:

Lorain, 60; Sandusky, 7; Cleveland, 7; Avon, 7; Mantua, 3; Medina, 2; other points, 2.

Property damage was estimated at $30,000,000 throughout the northern part of the state.

LORAIN, Ohio, June 30.—With sixty bodies recovered, Lorain, heavy hearted but with grim determination to carry on, awoke with dawn today to continue the work of removing the pile of debris that marks part of the State theater site, where still other bodies are believed to be buried as a result of the cyclone which struck here late Saturday, injuring hundreds and inflicting propertty damage that may reach $25,000,000 or more.

The city was under martial law today as the workers donated by two big corporations continued their work. Soldiers with drawn bayonets patrolled the streets; curiosity seekers were turned back with scant courtesy, or—if they were able-bodied men—impressed into the work of cleaning up. The only passes recognized were those signed by Brigadier-General J. R. McQuigg, in command of the Ohio National Guard unit on duty here.

Just how high the casualties will be remains unknown today. More than 100 persons have been reported "missing" by families and friends in addition to the identified dead, but it was thought that as the work progressed many of these would be found to have taken refuge elsewhere.

150 Dead, Estimate

Dr. William E. Tower, in charge of Red Cross headquarters, estimated the probable dead at 150. East Lorain, on the other side of Black river from the main town, remains practically unexplored this morning. Here 150 houses were levelled by the fury of the gale, and it was believed today that clearing away of the wreckage there would reveal many more bodies.

Ohioans Anxious for News About Relatives

Glendale residents who formerly lived in that part of Ohio visited by the disastrous storm are anxiously awaiting word from relatives and friends in the stricken area.

So far, Dr. H. C. Jelley of 121½ East Lomita avenue is the only one to report word from Ohio relatives. Dr. Jelley received a telegram this morning, via Cleveland, telling Dr. Jelley that his parents and other relatives are safe in Cleveland.

Other Glendale people who have folks living in the stricken part of the state are J. M. Eyerick of 116 South Louise street, whose former home was within five miles of the disaster; Charles Hahn of 126 North Orange street, formerly a resident of Cleveland; Charles Wellmes, formerly a resident of Sandusky and Lorain; James Dobney of 141 South Maryland; D. M. Billings of 721 South Brand boulevard; Harry Hoover of East Harvard street; H. W. Carver of 378 West California avenue; A. H. Van Wormer of 350 West California avenue, former residents of Toledo.

Salt Lake Ball Club Will Change Schedule

PORTLAND, Ore., June 30.—There will likely be no more baseball played in Salt Lake this year by the Coast league team there, according to Bill Lane, owner, in a statement here today. Continued poor attendance at Salt Lake is given as the reason for the change in schedule.

NAPLES, June 30.—Mount Aetna was in violent eruption today. A huge stream of lava flowed from the crater, accompanied by bursts of steam and smoke.

Take Power From Glendale Industries To Keep Those Of Los Angeles Running!

The California Fruit Growers' exchange and the California Walnut Growers' association join in publishing a large advertisement in a Los Angeles newspaper relative to the alleged shortage of electrical power. In the advertisement appears this:

"The Southern California Edison company, which supplies most of the agriculture of Southern California, has a contract with the city of Los Angeles to supply any current that may be needed by the city in excess of that produced by its own municipal plants. Due to the shortage of current from the city plants, the Edison company is delivering extra current, not ordinarily required, to the city in an amount that equals or exceeds the 25 per cent cut that it has been compelled to make in the current that it is delivering to agriculture."

Now, if the statements in that advertisement are true, and we have no reason to believe the fruit and walnut growers' organizations would not present the truth, it appears that the Edison company is "robbing" territory outside of Los Angeles in order that Los Angeles might be lit up like a Christmas tree. For, the advertisement says that "DUE TO THE SHORTAGE OF CURRENT FROM THE CITY PLANTS, THE EDISON COMPANY IS DELIVERING EXTRA CURRENT, NOT ORDINARILY REQUIRED, TO THE CITY IN AN AMOUNT THAT EQUALS OR EXCEEDS THE 25 PER CENT CUT THAT IT HAS BEEN COMPELLED TO MAKE IN THE CURRENT THAT IT IS DELIVERING TO AGRICULTURE."

As the Edison company has told Glendale it must cut its light and power more than 25 per cent, it would seem that this community has been put into the agricultural classification, its industries made to suffer and its business conditions harmed so that Los Angeles may have more electricity.

One Los Angeles newspaper of large circulation, in an editorial calling upon the public to use reasonable economy during the summer and there will be power enough, says:

"LET IT BE UNDERSTOOD, HOWEVER, THAT THERE NEED BE NO HAMPERING OF BUSINESS OR INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITIES WHATEVER, IF REASONABLE ECONOMY IS EXERCISED."

Elsewhere in the same editorial the newspaper declares:

"LET IT BE REPEATED, THERE IS PLENTY OF POWER TO OPERATE BUSINESS AS USUAL IF ALL WILL EXERCISE A REASONABLE AMOUNT OF SENSIBLE ECONOMY."

It is evident the Edison company has not put Los Angeles in the agricultural classification. Meanwhile, Glendale's industries are suffering from lack of power, payrolls are being slashed and the community receiving a "black eye" that will take a long time to "get well."

It appears to The Glendale Evening News that the city officials should immediately get busy and conserve light and power by adopting a schedule that will make luxuries and pleasures bear the burden of the cut. The city officials should see to it that our industries—the payroll producers—should have necessary power. Glendale's industries are entitled to the same service as those of Los Angeles.

Incidentally, the program effective in Los Angeles is another reason why we should proceed with the move to install gas or oil engines at the city's wells, where water is being pumped by electricity, and to secure a plant that will remove us from the "agricultural" classification.

M'ADOO HAS LEAD, SMITH SECOND IN CONTEST

Candidates' Backers Jockey In Race; Favorite Sons Being Eliminated

NEW YORK, June 30.—The Democratic convention adjourned shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon, after futilely trying to nominate a candidate for the presidency for nine successive ballots.

The general prediction of a deadlock was easily borne out by today's balloting.

McAdoo Holds Lead

William G. McAdoo maintained a commanding lead over the field for the entire nine ballots but he did not come within one hundred votes of a majority, much less the two-thirds necessary to nominate.

Governor Smith increased his strength steadily, from 241 on the first ballot to 278 on the ninth and his managers claimed to be able to run him considerably above this any time they gave the word.

McAdoo's maximum strength was polled on the eighth and ninth ballots, on both of which he had 444.6 as compared with a strength on the first ballot of 431 1-2.

Favorite Sons Quit

Three favorite sons went out of the running during the nine ballots—the first, Governor William E. Sweet of Colorado, on the third ballot; Senator John B. Kendrick of Wyoming, on the fifth, and the third, Senator Woodbridge Ferris of Michigan, on the eighth.

The votes of these states were split between McAdoo, Smith, Underwood and John W. Davis, with the New York governor faring better in the distribution than his rivals.

Still another favorite son was ready to drop when the adjournment until 8 o'clock tonight came—the Kansas delegation deciding to go to McAdoo, as has been generally expected.

Unit Rule Stands

Several efforts were made during the balloting to break the unit rule of the McAdoo delegations, principally in Missouri and the Panama canal zone, but each time Senator Thomas J. Walsh, the permanent chairman, upheld it.

First ballot—McAdoo, 431½; Ralston, 30; Underwood, 42½; Cox, 59; Smith, 241; J. W. Davis, 31; Governor Ryan, 28; Glass,

Petitions For Municipal Power Plant Being Signed

Petitions being circulated by the members of the emergency committee of the Kiwanis club on the light and power shortage, and which call upon the members of the City Council to take immediate steps toward securing a municipal electric plant here, are being signed readily by residents of Glendale, according to W. A. Horn, former councilman and chairman of the committee.

Nearly 100 copies of the petition have been placed in convenient places around the city, Mr. Horn said.

These petitions will be presented to the City Council at the regular meeting Thursday morning, and the need of a municipal plant will be told the councilmen at that time, Mr. Horn said.

Boost For Glendale

"One of the biggest advertisements for Glendale would be a municipal plant," Mr. Horn said. "It could be located on the land owned by the city in the vicinity of the wells which furnish the water supply. The city owns fourteen acres near the railroad track and a plant there with a large sign, 'Glendale and San Fernando Valley Power Company,' would be seen by persons on trains passing that point.

"The committee and others will stress the need of putting in auxiliary engines at the pumping stations, as a measure to bring immediate relief in the power shortage. Auxiliary engines to pump the water now being pumped by electricity furnished by the Southern California Edison company, will release a great amount of electricity for consumption in business houses, industries and homes. An auxiliary plant to generate electricity for the street lights, which can be put in now, would help the situation.

Boulder Dam Project

"About three months ago the officials of the Southern California Edison company told government officials and members of Congress there was plenty of electricity in Southern California and that the Boulder dam was not needed. This was only three months ago, and official records will bear me out in this statement.

"Today we are told by these same company officials power must be saved or Huntington lake will be dry by September 1. This great amount of electricity they said was here seems to have disappeared in three months and today we are told the power will be cut off at certain hours and remain off."

Former Councilman Horn again pointed out that the city owns all the power wires and poles throughout Glendale and that it would be a comparatively simple matter to secure a municipal light and power plant. Even the bookkeeping and billing system for light and power is being operated by the city. A generating plant is all that is required, he declared.

Urges Council To Put Gas Engines At Water Plants

The light situation is analyzed by Frank Booth of 111 South Kenwood street, in a letter that comes out plainly with things many people are thinking. He does not mince matters. The letter follows:

Editor, The Evening News—

"Too many cooks will spoil the broth." Have we not a representative body, our City Council, to take care of such problems as the light shortage and foresee such a calamity as might take place by putting our city in the dark? Water seems to be the crux of the whole matter. Why not ask our residents to curtail the use of water on lawns? It is so easy to turn on sprinklers and so easy to forget to turn them off. If we are not careful we may run out of water and be forced to purchase it elsewhere.

Urges Use of Gas

Now it's no use getting panicky or pessimistic, when there are so many optimists around. Let's give the gas company and the plumber a chance. I would advise consumers to install combination lights, gas and electric, and use gas as much as possible for cooking as well as illumination.

It is a pity our city officials could not have foreseen this situation and so have forestalled any such hold-up by an outside corporation. Rumors are rife of a possible attempt to put over a water bond issue or a raise in electric rates, like the gasoline scare when prices were boosted from 11 cents to 23c a gallon.

It's a wonder some brainy engineer has never solved the problem of harnessing our mighty Pacific ocean. The ebb and flow of the tides would provide power for the whole United States, without aid from the little insignificant Niagara falls.

Need Gas Engines

Many of your readers will no doubt remember the public indignation meetings held to protest the increases in telephone tolls and street car fares, granted by the State Railroad commission in the face of all opposition, after the excitement simmered down. And we never got our own telephones or street cars, as voted on at the meeting.

I have always maintained and will always maintain that municipal ownership of all public utilities is the only remedy and will surely come, if not today then tomorrow, so sure as there is a night and a day.

By all means let the City Council authorize installation of gas engines at our municipal pumping plants. There must be money in the treasury, otherwise the vote of the other day for increases in salaries could not have taken place.

I look to the Council, who represent the people of Glendale, to get busy and do the right thing. "Let there be light and there was light."

Yours truly,
FRANK BOOTH.

Far East Program at Adventist Rally Day

That it was Rally day for the Far East mission fields was evident Saturday morning at the Seventh-day Adventist church, as dainty maids in Japanese costumes, accompanied by real little Japanese girls in bright native attire, took their places on the rostrum for the program of the hour.

In addition to the exercises by the children there were speeches given by Dr. Riley Russell, who, with his wife, spent fifteen years in Korea as a missionary; Pastor P. A. Webber, who with his companion, was in Japan for ten years; Cong Pong Ho, a graduate of one of the Seventh-day Adventist schools in Korea, and Mr. Nakayama, a Japanese teacher and author. The native speakers were in costume, as also were the missionaries and their wives.

The program was given under the auspices of the Sabbath school with the superintendent, Mrs. C. A. Lagourgue, in charge.

Glendale's summer playgrounds are to open at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow at the Grand View, Doran, Pacific Avenue schools and Harvard High school.

Directors will be in charge from 1:30 till 6 o'clock during July and August and all children of any age are to be admitted.

Friendship With God Backbone of Religion

"The spirt of friendship with God is the backbone of religion," said Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, in his sermon yesterday morning, "and it is the spirit of consecrated service to Christ that is giving the world its high ideals today.

"The Christian life is largely a continuation of the friendships formed by personal relationship with other Christians and the carrying on of the ideals thus fostered. Morals themselves can never save the world by their own power, but only through a close personal contact between God and the individual can the salvation of the world be accomplished."

Mr. Kemp plans to leave for the east on July 14, and will remain there until the end of August. He will first go to San Antonio, Tex., where Mrs. Kemp is now visiting relatives, and from there he will go to New York, where he will spend the remainder of his vacation with his parents. During his absence Rev. B. J. Darneille will conduct the church services.

Glendale Program Is Heard by Radio Fans

According to reports a quarter of a million "listeners in" heard the Glendale program over the radio last night.

The program had been arranged by Harry James, assisted by Howard L. Brown, chairman of music of the Glendale Presbyterian church.

Featuring the program were two poems by Mr. James. The first was an original poem "Appreciation," dedicated to Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the church.

MORE ROOM Better Service

THE AMPLE space, the quiet, the beautiful appointments of our new banking rooms mean as much to the men who serve you there, as to the customers.

The Security Bank's object in giving to Glendale its only modern banking building, was both to show the belief the Bank has in this city, and to make possible ever better service.

You will like this Bank in its new home. July 1 to 10 is an appropriate time to move your account.

STARTS WORK ON LARGE RESIDENCE

Structure Being Built for Mr. and Mrs. Greenlaw On North Geneva

Work has been started on a picturesque 7-room Spanish stucco house at 621 North Geneva street, for Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Greenlaw. W. W. Wolcott, who has put up many of the fine homes in Glendale, is the builder. The plans were drawn by Lyle Nelson Barcume, a nephew of Mr. Greenlaw.

A living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast nook and three bedrooms are provided in the plans. Three screen porches will add to the spaciousness of the living quarters, affording marvelous views of the mountains in every direction. The house is to have a tile roof.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Greenlaw came to Glendale from St. Louis, Mo., in the fall of 1920. For over three years Mr. Greenlaw has been in the office of the Glendale Realty company, 131½ South Brand boulevard, of which Cameron D. Thom is president.

He believes that the present is the best time he has ever seen in this city to build, as costs are way down. There are, moreover, many good lots to be picked up at bargain prices just now, he states, where people have overbought.

Thieves Ransack Two Glendale Residences

Burglars last night ransacked the home of F. L. Bambridge, 918 South Adams street, and broke into a house at 215 East Elk avenue. Little of value was taken at either place, the police report shows.

One Woman Injured In Week-End Collisions

A car driven by E. H. Hahn of 5825 Pasadena avenue, Los Angeles, was damaged in a crash at Colorado boulevard and Everett street, 6:30 o'clock Sunday morning. No one was injured.

A car driven by Frank E. Anderson of Burbank was struck by an Associated Oil company truck driven by H. D. Stevens of Burbank, at San Fernando road and Broadway, 2:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Anderson, who was seated beside her husband, sustained minor injuries and was taken to the Glendale hospital suffering from shock. She is reported much improved.

The trucks of the Crystal Ice company and the J. McPherson Furniture company were in collision at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the corner of Glendale avenue and Lexington drive. No one was injured.

Glendale Delegation Starts for Elks' Meet

James A. Apffel, past exalted ruler of the Glendale Elks' lodge, left Saturday for Boston, Mass., where the grand lodge is to hold the national convention. He is the Glendale delegate.

Others going from Glendale were Joseph Fortunato, Stanley Frentz, chairman of the sick and relief committee; Mr. and Mrs. William P. MacMullin, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Evarts, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fish and Ed Dunning.

Tonight the local Elks will entertain as guests the officers from Huntington Park lodge. There will be dinner at Casa Verdugo. Later the Huntington Park delegation will conduct an initiation ceremony at the clubhouse on East Colorado street. Following the ceremonial lunch will be served and a vaudeville program given.

REALTORS FROLIC IN ANNUAL JINKS

Injunction Halts Supposed Ball Game; System of City Parks Urged

The customary rivalry between members of the Glendale Realty Board over real estate trades was pushed into the background Saturday, when the realtors held their annual High Jinks and picnic at the new city park recently donated to Glendale by Haddock-Nibley company at Rossmoyne, but the same spirit of rivalry was transferred to every contest on the program of sports, and serious business men competed strenuously for the prizes that had been bought with the fund specially raised for the occasion.

The baseball game started off as scheduled, with a couple of hastily organized teams, but before it had gone very far it was halted by an injunction served on the alleged players by Sheriff J. M. Boland, the document claiming that E. P. Hayward and Elwood Ingledue were both suffering from hallucinations in which they saw phantom escrows and that they were professional ball players, having played on the ball and chain gang at San Quentin.

Contest Winners

Councilman S. S. Gilhuly breezed in ahead of the field in the 100-yard dash and he also won the consolation prize in the fat men's race; E. P. Hayward won the standing broad jump from L. H. Myers after a close contest; Bud Sawyer was first in the boys' race, with Bud Newby a close second; Miss Dehler won the women's race and J. W. Pearson scored in the golf putting contest, but as he had left before the prizes were distributed the committee awarded it to George D.

Celebrate Club Member's Birthday

Mrs. Della R. Stone of 446 West Broadway, surrounded by a group of her friends of The Glendale Evening News Sunset club, entertained by her on Saturday afternoon in celebration of her eighty-seventh birthday. Seated in front row, reading from left to right, "Aunt Addie" Harter, 87 years old; A. H. Cleveland, 86; Mrs. Stone, 87; Mrs. Sarah Ellen Plannette, 87; Dominic Minnie, 87. Standing in back row, from left to right, George M. Walton, 81; Mrs. Addie G. Carter, 78; Mrs. James F. Ireland, 74; Mrs. C. M. Sparr; Mrs. Julina Hayes, 80; Mrs. Caroline Frances Wilcox, 86; Jeffrey Wisner Gillette, 87; Mrs. Zilpha A. Parker, 89; J. F. Ireland, 82.

A happier birthday celebration could not have been arranged than the meeting of The Glendale Evening News' Sunset club Saturday afternoon, to mark the eighty-seventh anniversary of the natal day of Mrs. Della R. Stone of 446 West Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Jay Stone, Mrs. Stone's son and his wife, assisted by Mrs. A. C. Tucker, Mrs. D. W. MacDonald, and Miss Anita MacDonald, received the club members, who enjoyed one of the most delightful gatherings they have had.

During the morning neighbors and friends had sent a profusion of lovely flowers, and these were arranged artistically in baskets and vases for the afternoon.

While many of the well-known club members were not able to be present, there were some who attended for the first time, and were heartily welcomed into the group. Among these were Joseph H. Olmsted, "Aunt Addie" Harter and Mrs. C. M. Sparr.

A picture was taken of the company, and late in the afternoon a birthday luncheon was served on a long table, prettily decorated with pink roses and water lilies from Mrs. MacDonald's garden.

A surprise feature of this part of the afternoon was a beautiful big white birthday cake, bright with glowing pink candles and pink rosebuds. This cake was placed before Mrs. Stone's place at the table and was later cut and served with brick ice cream.

While seated about the table the old folks were each one called upon to tell some interesting childhood experience or recite a poem learned at school. These reminiscences were full of human interest, and the time passed all too quickly.

The company had sung the "Doxology" before sitting down around the birthday table, and before bidding Mrs. Stone farewell they stood and sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

During the afternoon the club voted unanimously to extend to A. T. Cowan, publisher and owner of The Glendale Evening News, hearty appreciation of his graciousness in making the club meetings possible.

Those present were Mrs. Della R. Stone, Mrs. Julina Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ireland Joseph H. Olmsted, Dominic Minnie, Mrs. Zilpha A. Parker, Mrs. Sarah Ellen Plannette, George M. Walton, Mrs. Addie G. Carter, A. H. Cleveland, Jeffrey W. Gillette, Mrs. Caroline Frances Wilcox, "Aunt Addie" Harter, Mrs. C. M. Sparr.

MARK MILESTONE IN MARRIED LIFE

Captain and Mrs. Jackson Celebrate 25 Years of Wedded Happiness

Captain and Mrs. D. Ripley Jackson were married twenty-five years ago in West Orange, New Jersey, and on Saturday night they received 100 relatives and friends at their attractive new foothill home at 1544 Virginia avenue for a wonderful silver wedding anniversary affair.

Informality marked the festivities, the hosts and their guests enjoying dancing sociability and, at a late hour, a delicious buffet supper.

Assisting Mrs. Jackson were her daughter, Grace Anna, her sisters, Mrs. John D. Fraser, Mrs. A. A. Chandler, Mrs. Margaret Coddington, and Mrs. Nana King Custer, Miss Ethel Coddington and Miss Eunice Fraser of New York.

Shrine Orchestra Plays

As a courtesy to Captain Jackson, Kelly's Shrine Club orchestra attended the affair and furnished delightful music for the dancing.

A medley of soft pastel colors proved attractive in the favors for the dances and in the appointments for the supper. Mrs. Estelle Brain fashioned all of these. There were two favor dances, one in which cunning caps in varied colors were presented to the dancers, and another during which each person received a wand tipped with either a clown head or huge flower in crepe paper.

In the dining room the table was laden with many lovely gifts. One friend sent twenty-five beautiful red rosebuds. Among the lovely pieces of silver was one from the governing boards of the

Pastor Recalls Two Mysteries In Sermon

Rev. W. W. Cookman preached the morning sermon at the First Methodist church yesterday morning, choosing as his subject, "Our Present Ignorance and Our Future Illumination," based on St. John, 13:6: "What I do, thou knowest not now, but thou shall know hereafter." In the course of the sermon he made direct reference to two of the greatest mysteries of the nineteenth century with which he was intimately acquainted. These were the abduction of Charlie Ross, he being the minister to the family, and the loss of the first American steamship "President," which went down with 300 lives on board, among whom was his grandfather, Rev. George Cookman, chaplain of the United States Senate.

Rev. H. I. Rasmus, Jr., preached the sermon at the evening service.

Scouts Will Return From Catalina Camp

Word has been received from Harvey R. Cheesman Glendale Boy Scout executive that the first group of Scouts in camp at Catalina island are to reach home at 7 o'clock Wednesday night. He reports a fine time in camp and all boys in good health.

Glendale Singers at Santa Monica Meeting

A large delegation of Glendale singers went to Santa Monica to take part in the beach gathering of choruses from all parts of Southern California. Community singing was led by Hugh Kirchhofer.

R. Ernest Tucker and J. Arthur Myers of Glendale met with the committee planning for a great contest in music, drama and art.

City Officials Land Big Catch of Trout

The party of city officials who left a week ago Saturday for a motor camping trip in the Taylor Creek district above Weldon returned Sunday afternoon, tanned and refreshed, bringing with them over 100 trout. In the party were Building Superintendent H. C. Vandewater and family, City Attorney Ray L. Morrow and family and City Engineer Ben F. Dupuy and family.

Use of tooth brushes and mouth washes for dogs, as well as the grinding or slicing of the meat served them, are among the recommendations of an English canine specialist.

Head shampooing, as employed today, was known in 1530.

Of course when you want to buy merchandise of any kind you are anxious to patronize a Glendale dealer. When you wish to employ professional skill it is your desire to secure a local man. When repair work is needed it is to your advantage to have the work done by mechanics near home.

The object of this index column is to refer you to the CO-OPERATIVE DEPARTMENT on Page 6 of this issue, where you will find listed a large number of merchants, tradesmen and professional men who are real boosters for Glendale. While the Community Loyalty Section will appear in The Evening News one day every week, yet readers are advised to cut it out and hold it for reference for the purpose of ascertaining names and locations of business firms in Glendale.

EXPERIMENTING WITH PAVING MATERIALS

One of the problems that a great many cities have to deal with is the street that is not properly constructed and durable, and Glendale has more than her share of such roads. A poorly built street is a constant source of irritation to the property holders on the street, to the city council, and to all who have to use the road; and it is a mighty poor advertisement for the city, especially if it is a thoroughfare. As a usual thing shrewd salesmen for road-building-material manufacturers are responsible for these unserviceable streets, but the people in the assessment district and the city council are not without their share of blame.

In the past eleven years it has occurred more than once that as soon as the first steps had been taken in the proceedings to improve some street, the property owners in the assessment district were visited by a representative of a paving-material concern and his smooth talk and his shrewd arguments convinced them of the superiority of his product and the economy that could be effected by its use; and they signed a request for that kind of paving.

When the time came for the letting of the contract and the grade of paving was being considered by the city council an attorney representing this same manufacturer appeared before the council and informed the members that the majority of the frontage were demanding this type of paving.

In a way, the City Council is helpless, for the people are paying for the street, and they are asking for a certain kind of paving. It seems arbitrary for the council to refuse what they ask, and if the council does favor some other grade of paving or some other composition which they think will be more satisfactory and lasting there is a cry of graft.

City Council and property owners should find out what is serviceable and lasting in the way of paving, and even if it is higher priced select something that is standard and reliable. They should not depend upon a glib stranger with an oily tongue who has something to sell.

Brand Boulevard has been paved for about ten years, and other than the mutilation it has undergone in the laying of gas and water pipes it is in as good condition as it ever was. When the paving of Brand was under consideration, Ed Lynch, then Glendale's city engineer, told the people he would give them something satisfactory and permanent. When the work was being done it was thought by some that the matter of inspection, of taking samples and making tests was being carried to extremes, but time has justified Mr. Lynch and the City Council in the way they handled that job.

Colorado boulevard, which was paved before Brand, was never a satisfactory job. It has been resurfaced and repaired again and again, and now, when the last assessments are being paid for the old paving, there is a new assessment for a new street, and it is whispered that the new paving is a delusion and a snare. And the continuation of this street, Colorado street in Eagle Rock, was never satisfactory; it has been constantly in process of patching and repair for ten years.

The City Council that will stand firm, against the property owners in an assessment district, in their decision against any material or any method of paving that time has not proved to be permanent will win lasting glory in the end. No matter how short the street, cheap paving is never satisfactory or economical.

The City Council is the goat anyway. The councilmen may as well stand for being called grafters for not accepting the lowest bid and the cheapest paving, as to be damned after the road is in and is found to be unsatisfactory. For the people, although they were sold on the lower-priced paving material by the smooth salesman, will forget that and place the blame on the City Council if the street does not stand up under traffic as it should.

The only safe way in street paving is to stick to what has been proved lasting and let some other town experiment with new compositions and materials. Glendale has spent a good many thousand dollars to learn that untried materials, cheap methods and slipshod work are mighty expensive in road building.

THE "SOFT" DRINK HABIT

The soft drink mania has grown by leaps and bounds the past few years, stimulated, it is said, by prohibition. The man who was accustomed to go into the saloon and get a glass of beer or something stronger now steps to the soda fountain for his drink, and many who never patronized the saloons or used strong drink have the soft drink habit. In the step from intoxicating liquor to the bottle of soda pop there is much to be thankful for, but while the soft drink habit is not so harmful and does not lead to such disastrous consequences, yet it is a habit, none the less.

Manufacturers vie with each other in bringing out new products which are put on the market and imbibed with gusto by the public. Some of these drinks are advertised frankly as stimulants. It is said that a very popular drink contains a habit-forming drug and it is well known that there are those who are "coke" fiends.

Most soft drinks consist of charged water and a little syrup and flavoring. Unless they do contain drugs there is not enough of anything in them to make them harmful. But no drink has yet been devised to take the place of a glass of pure, cold water in quenching the thirst. Soda fountain habitues say they are thirsty and imbibe some sickeningly sweet concoction that only aggravates thirst.

Adam's ale is plentiful, healthful and refreshing. Why is it not more popular as a beverage?

Psychologists who have analyzed a great number of conversations find that women talk about men and clothes, that men talk about business and sports and that neither talks about health.

You may not get a kick out of mowing your vacant lot, but you'll get a kick out of the neighbors if you don't mow it.

You can't see much of the world through a port hole, nor get much recreation through an office window.

True first aid work is not in the proper application of a bandage, but in the prevention of the accident.

The good die young and lots of young folks think they are good drivers.

The Shoemaker's Children

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Why is it that, as a rule, lawyers make the worst jurymen and seem ill-fitted to weigh evidence, when it is their business and specialty to handle evidence, and they ought to be the best judges of its value;

And preachers confess to you that they have a hard time being good, and must keep up a constant fight to prevent their moral sense from becoming obtunded by too great familiarity with the phrases and conventions of piety;

And carpenters and builders usually live in the most absurd looking houses;

And professional comedians are proverbially melancholy;

And the successful mother of a family of a dozen will protest that she knows nothing about child training, while the old maid thinks she knows it all;

And everybody seems to know more about running a newspaper than the man that is editing it;

And the bystander always knows better what move to make than either of the two chess players;

That the head master of a boys' school sends his own boys to another institution;

And when any of the doctor's family get sick they invariably send out for another physician;

And ministers' sons are supposed to be peculiarly wild;

And dressmakers' children are dowdy;

And dressmakers wear the most impossible hats;

And the horse trader drives a plug

And the proprietor of the high-class cigar importing house smokes stogies;

And the learned judge, at whose entrance into the courtroom all arise, and who summarily fines any lawyer who talks back, cannot command the respect of his own wife and children;

And the shoemaker's children go barefoot;

And all that?

There may be many reasons, but one reason for this whole class of phenomena is

That Generalizations are safe and simple, while Particular Instances are complex and mysterious.

Horoscope

Uranus in malefic aspect dominates today, according to astrology. Neptune is friendly early in the morning.

Aviation and aviators are subject to sinister influences at this time. They should take no great risks, for they will encounter bad weather as well as mechanical misfortunes.

The sinister sign held to threaten those who fly extends influence to the government, it is foretold, and the United States will have cause to regret unwise aviation policies, if astrology is to be taken seriously.

This is a threatening sway for lovers making for much deception and disappointment.

Men may be ardent wooers and women may be easily won while this configuration prevails, but lasting lover and loyalty apparently are not to be expected.

There is a good sign for those who make ocean trips and an immense volume of travel to Europe is indicated.

The eastern seaboard is to occupy much attention in the newspapers, because many happenings of a sensational nature will be recorded from Boston, Philadelphia and New York.

With the close of June the seers promise better conditions in certain lines of business during July. Dealers in women's wear should profit.

A government crisis is forecast for Great Britain and much exciting news from overseas is indicated.

Food prices will remain high during the entire summer and there will be suffering in the poorer quarters of the big American cities.

Much public attention will focus on the welfare of children in the United States. Persons long interested in the starving little ones in foreign countries will join in the crusade against child labor with the help of the government.

Interest in air mail service will be increased by the successful development of long distance routes, the seers predict.

Persons whose birth date it is should pay strict attention to business during the coming year, which may be rather exacting. Girls should not waste too much time in social diversions, which may be unusually unprofitable.

Children born on this day probably will be sharp-witted, talented and successful. These subjects of Cancer are usually fond of travel and change of scene. Also they are easily bored by ordinary companionships.

Who's Who

The name of Thomas Hardy, eminent British novelist, has been recommended to the committee awarding the Nobel prizes as a candidate for the prize for literature for 1924. The P. E. N. club, an international association of playwrights, authors, novelists, editors and men of letters, has made the suggestion.

Hardy, now recognized as one of the leading novelists of the day, started life as an architect. After obtaining an education in public schools, by private tutor and in evening classes, he became a pupil of John Hicks, ecclesiastical architect. He sketched and measured many old country churches since pulled down or altered. Then, for five years, he worked at Gothic architecture under Sir A. Blomfield. In 1863 he was prizeman of the Royal Institute of British Architects.

He started writing verses in 1860. About eight years later he dropped verse writing to spend all his time writing prose but later devoted much time to poetry.

He was born in Dorsetshire, June 2, 1840.

His best known novels are "Tess of the d'Urbervilles," "Jude the Obscure," "The Mayor of Casterbridge" and other novels with settings in Sussex. He also is the author of a play, "The Dynasts," and numerous poems.

Today's Poem

FOUR-LEAF CLOVER

I know a place where the sun is like gold,
And the cherry blossoms burst with snow,
And down underneath is the loveliest nook,
Where the four-leaf clovers grow.
One leaf is for hope, and one is for faith,
And one is for love, you know,
And God put another in for luck—
If you search, you will find where they grow.

But you must have hope, and you must have faith,
You must have love and be strong—and so
If you work, if you wait, you will find the place
Where the four-leaf clovers grow.

—Ella Higginson.

Smiles

FOR GOODNESS NOSE

Two young men seated in a trolley car were discussing the prodigious size of the nose of a man seated opposite them. At length one of the young men stepped across the aisle and said, "Pardon me, sir, but would you mind telling me why your nose is so exceedingly large?"

The man addressed lowered his newspaper and glanced at his inquirer. "Not at all," he responded. "It's very simple. I have always kept it out of other people's business, and let it grow."

THE WAY OUT

Mose Sampson had been arrested for helping himself illegally to a white neighbor's Wyandottes.

"Guilty or not guilty?" demanded the judge.

"Not guilty, sah!" answered the prisoner promptly.

"Have you an alibi?"

"Al-al-says which, please, suh?"

"You heard me! Have you an alibi?"

"Oho! Yassuh! Didn' onnerstan' yo' at fust. Yo' means de alley by which agh 'scaped wid dem chickens?"

DAD CALLED 'EM

"While you were being relieved of your valuables did you call the police?"

"Yes, everything I could think of."

The Ravings Of a Grouch

I have figured out where they get the movie scenarios. They have a pattern that they lay down on the goods and they cut them out all over the same model. Or they may take a hero, a heroine, a villain and a vamp with a few minor characters and a mob and pour them into a mould. They always come out alike. I feel that I could construct stories of greater interest, much more dramatic and true to life than the trash we are accustomed to see at the average movie theatre.

The movie makers say the women who attend the theatres, from the little shop girl to the elderly matron, do not see the heroine on the screen at all; they see themselves in the role of the heroine, clasped to the bosom of the manly hero. They tell us men (and this includes the bald-headed business man as well as the 16-year-old who is having his first experience with puppy-love) do not see Percival Pierce, the handsome young leading man. They see themselves in Percival's skin. I do not think the average person, especially one who has reached maturity, is as silly as this. I am very romantic myself and like to be beguiled occasionally by a good love story, but I pride myself that I can enjoy such without putting my middle-aged self in the place of the young hero. The villain and the vamp! We don't see ourselves in their places (and they are so handsome, too, and so well-dressed); it is really unfair to them. But, maybe the small boys and the little girls sometimes see themselves in these roles.

All the world loves a lover, it is said. But the world is usually disgusted with the average love-making on the screen. It is sickening from the first long-drawn-out kiss to the final clinch.

If I should write a play I think I should omit the siren with the cigarette, the heroine who has spent all her life in a low dive and yet doesn't know there is such a thing as evil, the villain with the gun and the strong young hero who overcomes all. I shall try to remember that in life people very seldom overhear conversations that vitally affect their lives; that lovers parted by a silly quarrel rarely meet by accident in the South Sea islands; that it is well-nigh impossible for two people to look and act so much alike that they can take each other's places.

If I should ever decide to write a scenario, it would revolutionize the industry. But, why should I try? They are not looking for real, good stuff. They want all their stories cut over the same pattern.

Vinegar was the word instead of vineyard, printed in a Bible published at Oxford in 1776, the error occuring in the headline of Luke XXII and earning for that particular book the name of Vinegar Bible.

Growth of Glendale Depends on People

Patronage of local merchants and local workers of all kinds is one of the big causes of Community Development. Glendale's growth in the past has, in a large measure, been due to her Community Loyalty, and her growth will continue in the ratio that her citizens continue to buy at home and to increase their patronage of home people.

Community pride, in itself, is good. It leads us to talk of the home city but it fails to be the real thing unless it expresses itself in a tangible way. We can not be, after all, very proud of our Community, we can not have a very great interest in it unless we are led to do something for it.

It does not take much effort to patronize the home merchants. There are things that we must buy every day and it is certainly much more convenient to buy them at home than to go out of town for them.

There was a time when Glendale people could be excused for trading out of town. A good many kinds of merchandise were not carried in Glendale at all; in some lines the choice was so limited as to be very unsatisfactory; Glendale merchants were not in a position to give city service; some of the stores were unattractive. The same thing was true in the professions and trades. They were in their infancy and thought they could not afford to advertise. The people did not know they were represented in Glendale, so they went to a larger city where the service they wanted could be easily located. But now Glendale is in a position to give her people almost any service or any merchandise they want.

Some people trade at home as a matter of course. Others do not stop to think that their patronage would mean anything to the Community and so go out of town on shopping expeditions. Others have never given the home people a fair trial and so do not really know that they are worthy of support.

Every Glendale citizen patronizing the home merchants and the home workers is an aim worth while in the work of Community Development.

DECLARES PARTY RULE IS SAFEST

Non-Partisan Idea Results In Political Anarchy, Claims Writer

By H. V. ADAMS
Of 436 West California Street

Every once in a while we hear some one say that he is not for any party. He is for the best man, assuming, of course, that he knows of his own personal knowledge who is that best man.

If every voter was of the same stripe we would have political anarchy. There would be no organization, and therefore no means of disseminating information concerning men and issues, no way to determine policies—social, economic or of any sort.

If, perchance, some one man possessed such a wonderful personality as to project that personality beyond his own local community, and other communities rallied to him as his own community had done, in process of time we can conceive that he would have a personal following which would cover his state and maybe the nation. But by that time, and long before, his personal following would have become a political party—a partisan group—bound together by a common acceptance of the views and policies of their idol.

Party Is Partisan

A band of voters all enthusiastic over commonly accepted policies is a political party, and a political party is always partisan.

Nothing could be much more ridiculous than the spectacle presented in North Dakota of a bunch of voters calling themselves "non-partisan" when they are the strictest sort of adherents to a party group.

Every bunch of men organized into a cohesive working organization is a partisan group. It is absolutely impossible for them to be otherwise.

Political parties are necessary that a representative republic such as ours may function, for by no other means can the republic live. Mobs cannot run a government successfully, nor anything else, not even a revolution. We must have men working together for a common end and this can be done only by means of an organization.

Have No Purpose

What these purported "independents" mean by their "non-partisan" boast is simply that they have not used their own personal brains enough to have any clearly defined views on the great questions of the hour, and they are mentally loafing around until some dominating personality so far sways their unused brains as to bring them into a working cacord with his purposes.

A bunch of high school boys went on a strike. They sent a committee of three to interview the superintendent. The superintendent locked the three boys in a room and went down to interview the mob. "Boys," asked the superintendent, "what do you want?" The boys answered in the impertinent manner of leaderless mobs—"We want what them boys want." "Well," asked the teacher, "what do those boys want?" The mob answered in the unthinking way that mobs have—"We don't know what they want, but we want what they want."

Your boasted "non-partisan" is a lazy-minded voter—too lazy to have well defined ideas on anything.

Men and women who have sufficient mind of their own to think through the questions of the hour sufficiently to form an opinion of their own—such men and women line themselves up with the bunch they think most nearly conforms to their views. A few very dominating personalities think so independently that they soon surround themselves with a bunch of ardent admirers and then is born another partisan group.

Party Leads Way

There is no escape from partisanship unless we have no parties, no groups, no organization working for a common end. And unorganized bodies of men are a mob—an unthinking crowd.

Between an unthinking mob and partisanship it should not be difficult to choose. Your organized party does something. If the something which it does be not good, then will some other party arise to wrest the control of things.

The new party will be just as partisan as was the old one. A man is just as partisan who joins with congenial souls for a thing that is right, as is the man who joins with a bunch of his fellows for a thing that is wrong.

Partisanship may be a virtue or it may be a vice. It all depends.

Miss Pollard Located In New Bank Building

Miss Sara E. Pollard, well known public stenographer and notary public, formerly located at 125 West Broadway, has removed to Room 521 in the new Security Trust & Savings bank building at the northeast corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway.

Stating that the move was made necessary by her growing business, Miss Pollard adds that in addition to stenographic and notary work, she is agent for the New York Plate Glass company, Insurance Company of North America, Glen Falls, Ocean Accidents and other well known companies and offers a complete insurance service.

At the summit of Mt. Everest the atmosphere contains less than half the amount of oxygen found at sea level.

OFFER TOURISTS VACATION AT SEA

Vacation of Carribean Sea For East Bound Voyagers On White Fleet

Residents of Glendale who are contemplating eastern trips this summer can include a tour of the Caribbean sea en route and still take advantage of the excursion rail rates that are in effect, through arrangements made with the rail lines, according to announcement made today by J. F. Heneghan, Pacific coast agent of the United Fruit company.

Under this arrangement, tourists can travel via any route to New Orleans, where they can board one of the vessels of the "Great White Fleet" to visit the scenic and historic places in the Caribbean islands and the Panama canal. The return trip can be made from New Orleans or the voyage can be concluded at New York. If so desired, the tour can be made the reverse routing as well, the low fares still applying.

Mr. Heneghan gave as the reason for the great increase in popularity of this route the unusually long layovers allowed at Havana, the Panama canal zone, and other ports, making it possible for the tourist to visit the points of interest without stopping over and waiting for another steamer. He points out that the traveling public is fast coming to realize that these trips offer a decided relief from the excessive heat prevailing during the summer months in many of the large cities.

CHRIST REVEALS FATHER'S MERCY

Christian Religion Is Topic Of Kringle's Sermon In Lutheran Church

Taking his text from St. Luke, 6: 36-42, Rev. Henry O. Kringle, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, yesterday morning brought to the consideration of his congregation "The Christian's Religion." Mr. Kringle said in part:

"Pure religion is a most wonderful thing, distinct from everything else. The center of it is Christ, the son of God, the saviour of the world, the great example the like of which shall never again be seen on earth. Christ is so grand as an example that even the unbelievers acknowledge that whoever desires to lead a happy life should imitate the Nazarene.

God's Mercy Shown

"Equally grand are Christ's precepts, teaching and instructions. Can the world show forth a wiser word to guide man in his actions toward his fellow men than the word of Jesus: 'As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.'

"Grand indeed are our Saviour's teachings as revealed in our text: 'Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful.' Creation is full of God's mercy toward man, but above all, his mercy and tender loving kindness are seen in the redemption of sinners, in sending his son to die on the cross for man."

Douglas White Plays Good Game at Culver

Douglas White, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., of 347 North Orange street, made a splendid showing yesterday on the golf links at the California Country club at Culver City. He entered the first flight contest and, while not being winner he held the place of runner up.

Install Own Lights

Mrs. Jackson was most happy on the anniversary, for she had received as gifts from Captain. Jackson the new home, a beautiful grand piano and an Essex coach.

Plans for the affair were somewhat doubtful when the announcement was made that the electricity would be turned off from 10 p. m. on. To meet this emergeny Captain Jackson called on his good friends at the Willard Service station, who spent all Saturday afternoon installing storage batteries and Ford headlights throughout the house, so that ample lights would be provided. However, the final announcement that the lights would not be turned off until 4 a. m. saved the Jackson family from using the emergency system.

Artist Inspired by Glendale's Beauties

Mrs. Hannah Tempest Jenkins, California artist of Claremont, who is a guest at the Glendale Sanitarium, expresses great delight at the view the hilltop institution commands.

She has received such inspiration from the location that she is to paint several landscapes from the window of her room.

The eucalyptus picture, hanging over the fireplace in the Sanitarium living room, is one of Mrs. Jenkins' and was a gift from her.

IN SEEKING RELIEF FROM POWER SHORTAGE

MUNICIPALLY OWNED PLANT DEMANDED

INDEPENDENT BOND COMMITTEE URGED TO "CARRY ON"

"While I was in the council, I looked into the matter of a municipal plant. I was told the city could buy power cheaper than it could afford to put in a plant, and that the supply was unlimited. It appeared to be then, so I did not press the matter.

"The situation is changed today. The supply is not unlimited. We are going to have darkness, and we can't help ourselves. The corporation has spoken, and all we can do is jump through their hoop and pretend to like it.

"But we can take care there will be no further shortages, and no more 'dark ages' for Glendale, by putting in a municipal plant. All the poles, wires, meters, transformers and other equipment are owned by the city. All we buy is the juice, just the same as the housewife goes into the market and buys groceries.

"Here is one point that must not be overlooked. Suppose the switch were pulled, as has been threatened. Suppose the water reservoirs of the city were full. Suppose a big fire broke out a few hours after the switch was pulled. What would be the result? The city would be an easy prey to the fire, for there would be little or no water to stop it.

"People here do not realize that the reservoirs—that full reservoirs, pumped full by electricity bought from the Southern California Edison company, hold only from five to seven hours' supply, for normal use. It is easy to see what would happen to the city if a fire broke out, and the power was off.

"To remedy this situation, and remove all possibilities of a big conflagration and heavy losses, the committee recommends to the City Council that an engine, to be driven either by oil or gas, be installed at the pumping plants.

People Must Act

"Every person who was living in Glendale about a year ago will recall what happened when there was a big fire at the transformer house of the Southern California company near Eagle Rock. Some wires got crossed, and the plant was almost ruined. Power was shut off for hours. It may not happen again for years, and it may happen today or tomorrow or next week, but we want to be prepared if it does happen again.

"A few men on a committee can not do the entire work. Neither can the City Council alone. It will need the support of the people, and that is why we have prepared petitions asking for a municipal plant."—(Excerpt from statement of former Councilman Horn, Glendale News, June 28.)

Buick Again Holds Center of Interest

Eyes Of Motordom Are Focused On Flint Awaiting Verification Of Reports

THE eyes and ears of motordom and of the vast motoring public are focused on Flint, Michigan, the home of the Buick Motor Company.

Eagerly, everyone is waiting for the makers of Buick to break their silence of months' standing and settle once and for all the speculation as to what the 1925 Buick line will offer. While rumor on rumor has piled up at headquarters of the Buick organization not one single hint of the plans for 1925 has been forthcoming and even to them Buick officials have denied official knowledge. Unofficial whisper even has been silenced as to the plans for the coming twelve months.

All rumors, however, have been so persistent, regarding a number of special interest that the public generally is of content to look for the announcement. In fact it is almost impossible to pay attention to any discussion of cars without hearing some unverified report as to Buick and its 1925 line.

This has served to increase the attention that the trade and public are giving to Buick. The persistency with which the Buick organization is harrassed with inquiry about the 1925 plans, the speculations that are being made on every hand and the rumors that keep coming to the surface—all are serving to create an interest in Buick which only a definite announcement apparently will satisfy.

Is Buick going to build a new Six? Will Buick continue its present body lines? Is Buick going to abandon the valve-in-head type of engine? What new and additional models will Buick offer next year?

There are some of these questions that are on the lips of the public. The key will not be until the definite announcement. Of course certain trivial happenings have been interpreted to answer all of them. It is rumored that Buick will offer a new six. It is quite generally conceded that the popularity of the present models and the enthusiastic comment upon them by motorists are safe guarantees of the general appearance and that the cars will not be altered. It sounds rather far fetched to assume that Buick will cast aside the valve-in-head engine which has played such a part in Buick's successes in the past. It also is conceded that the 1925 line is sure to contain some new models, which will find a fitting place in the complete Buick line.

"Whether or no, or just what" are questions that only the announcement will answer. Consequently everyone is watching for the time when Buick will give notice of the coming of a statement about 1925, and particularly the announcement of the date when the public will have a chance to see something.

Aviators Rescued as Plane Is Forced Down

NEWPORT BEACH, June 30.—Tom Wade and Charles Peterson, piloting a seaplane from the Seal Beach airport, were forced down into the ocean yesterday afternoon more than a mile from Balboa landing.

For more than an hour they bobbed around in the briny without being able to get their engine working again and only when a bather with keener eyes than others spied them in distress did a half dozen motor boats rush to their rescue.

Both Wade and Peterson were violently seasick and in danger of having their plane broken to pieces in the breakers with the incoming evening tide.

FIESTA PROGRAM AT OAKMONT CLUB

Members and Guests Enjoy Brilliant Affair Given Saturday Night

The Oakmont Country club presented a gay scene Saturday night, when a brilliant fiesta program was presented on the porch during the dinner hour and a dancing party enjoyed until a late hour in the ball room.

Mrs. Max Lynn Green had arranged the program and her selection of talent from among the club members and families was highly complimented by the 300 or more who witnessed the program.

The meal was served buffet style on the terrace in front of the clubhouse. Tables had been arranged and electric lights strung about to afford ample light. During the dinner the program was given.

Program Numbers

The program included: Recitations by Howard Kent; vocal selections by Olaf Andresen; vocal solos by Mrs. George Seaton; chorus of girls led by Lois Naudain in a club parody on "From One Till Two," Florence Rattray, Caroline Ayars, Grace McCluskey, Roberta Cullen, Margaret Brown, Katherine Guthrie and Helen Boyd; piano solos by Mrs. George Lindsey; dance by Miss Naudain; skit, "Please Pass the Cream" by George Farmer and Marjorie Temple. Miss Beulah Dunbar served as accompanist. Arthur Dibbern announced the program.

The ball room was brightly decorated for the dance later. Streamers of varied colored paper and balloons were used in decoration.

APPROVE BY-LAWS OF COUNTRY CLUB

Erection of Large Building At Mouth of Canyon Is Plan of Members

At an open meeting of the members of the Sunset Canyon Country club held Saturday afternoon at the clubhouse for the purpose of outlining the policies of the club for the future, the by-laws drafted by a committee, were approved and the assembly expressed a desire for the completion of the work on the original clubhouse at the mouth of the canyon. A large number of Glendale members attended the meeting.

After the completion of an extensive foundation, the plans for the large clubhouse on a site overlooking the San Fernando valley were abandoned and the present building half way up the canyon near the swimming pool was constructed. The board of directors reported the club is now financially able to continue the erection of the massive stone building on the old foundation. When this structure is completed, the canyon clubhouse will be used for a locker building and caddie house.

Among other improvements contemplated by the board of directors is the purchase of acreage to the east of the club property on which to construct an additional nine holes of the golf course, making a full eighteen-links. It is believed that this property would allow for a more extensive course, with longer fairways and larger greens. D. H. Smith, chairman of the board of directors, presided at Saturday's meeting.

Catastrophe Hits Ohio
Political Scraps Ahead
Glendale's Power Problem
Build Boulder Canyon Dam

By Gil A. Cowan

Catastrophe has overtaken Ohio, as well as Mississippi valley states. Electrical tornadoes sweeping down on helpless cities have left death and destruction in their wake.

Today the first complete reports of the damage done are being received in International News Service dispatches by The Glendale Evening News. You will read with wonderment that more people were not killed.

Whole city blocks were demolished. Top stories of brick buildings were blown off in Lorain and Sandusky, Ohio. Ships in Lake Erie were spun around like tops.

People died like flies in a trap when the State Theatre at Lorain collapsed.

It was calamity that will long live in the minds of the residents.

Some lively political fights are being cooked up this fall for this section. And while the Democratic national convention has the stage for the present, there is something of more interest to voters locally than whether McAdoo or Smith or Spark Plug head the Bourbon ticket.

Walter Lineberger, congressman for the ninth district, has gone to Europe and in his absence Dailey Stafford, Covina judge and well known legionnaire, has taken opportunity to announce himself as the Democratic aspirant for the position to which Major Lineberger seeks re-election.

As far as the Republicans are concerned it is not probable that the latter will have a fight, but Judge Stafford will make a formidable opponent.

Also, the old Johnson machine will have candidates in the field opposing every pro-Richardson legislator seeking to return to Sacramento. However, they will not get far in this district, for Frank C. Weller is too strongly entrenched, this writer believes. At the same time no campaign is certain until the votes are counted.

Assemblyman Weller stood firmly for economy and efficiency, and in view of the many crises through which the state is passing, it is well that the resources of California were not exhausted by the legislature as some of the self-styled "progressive" members representing the old plunderbund would have had it.

And now that needs of the people have actually been brought to light, such as proper housing for the morons, vocational rehabilitation funds, etc., the board of control and the legislature and the governor ought to be able to work out a very satisfactory budget for the next biennium.

Glendale may be thankful that it is only short of power. Eagle Rock is having trouble with its water supply. Pasadena is on rations and so is Santa Monica.

Now all of these problems will be met in due time, so it is not necessary for us to lose confidence or courage at the expense of continued prosperity, and we should feel thankful that this section of the country is not subject to tornadoes or so much rain that crops cannot be cultivated.

All have their troubles—and ours can be remedied in a very few weeks by the installation of electrical generating apparatus.

All the people need do is "go and get it."

And while we are getting things the Boulder Canyon dam is a good idea.

Irrespective of the buncombe on the subject given out by the power companies, the United States government can and should construct the dam for irrigation and power purposes at the earliest possible date.

This district should have a congressman pledged to that project without any strings tied to him.

All of which means he cannot have the indorsement of certain Los Angeles newspapers which are known to favor the private power interests.

Movie Director Hurt Saving Women In Fire

LOS ANGELES, June 30.—Heroically attempting to extinguish a fire which threatened the lives of three neighbor women, George Jeske, well known motion picture director, was probably fatally burned here. PLANS TWO DAYS OF CELEBRATION

Goodfellow Club Sponsors Big Event at Burbank For Next Week

BURBANK, June 30.—It has been decided that this city will celebrate July Fourth for two days, continuing over Friday's patriotic demonstration to Saturday, when additional events of a civic character will take place. The Goodfellows' club is sponsoring the big affair and it is endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce.

There are many contests announced, all of which will be held on the ground lying east of the Benmar Hills tract office, and a ferris wheel, merry-go-round and other such fun-furnishing devices will be there.

Dancing, to begin at 1 o'clock both days, will be in the Benmar Hills garden hall, and the "Packard 6" orchestra which plays at Lester's ball room, will furnish some of the thrilling music.

Burbank's splendid Municipal band will give concerts at 11, 3 and 8:30 o'clock each day, it is planned.

The new bandstand and benches are having a coat of paint administered these days, and are taking on a shade of green. The paint not only improves the appearance of the stand and benches, but it is said, will act as a preservative as well.

Mrs. Catherine Pershing and two sons, Everett and Charles, have left to spend the summer with her brother and sisters in camping at Lake Erie. They expect to be back the first of September.

OPENING DATE OF PLAYGROUND SET

Plans for Independence Day Celebration at School Are Under Way

LA CRESCENTA, June 30.—The summer playground will open July 2. Plans to date include a girls' croquet ground, now under construction; a volley ball court, hockey, golf course and a baseball ground. An instructress in basket weaving has volunteered her services for girls who may be interested. According to the present schedule the children are to have a real old-fashioned Fourth of July, to be held on the school grounds.

The final report of the La Crescenta and Montrose schools show the average daily attendance to be 397 during the past term.

Dale Craig of West Piedmont street spent the week-end in Santa Monica, the guest of Kenneth Padden.

Dr. J. O. Newton has returned east to be present at the centennial of Kent's Hill Seminary at Readfield, Maine. Dr. Newton is one of the four living past presidents of the seminary. He will return to his La Crescenta home at the conclusion of the two-day celebration.

The average attendance at the daily vacation Bible school is 40 pupils.

The Men's Brotherhood of the La Crescenta Community church will hold its regular weekly meeting on Tuesday night, July 1, at 7:30 o'clock in the church parlors on West Montrose avenue.

Summon Mass Meeting To Plan Improvements

SUNLAND, June 30.—County Supervisors Wright and Bean, representatives of the San Fernando Chamber of Commerce and members of the county planning commission have been invited to be present at a meeting of Tujunga and Sunland civic organizations tonight at Monte Vista park. There will be a mass meeting of the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce, Sunland Chamber of Commerce, Tujunga Kiwanis club, Valley Center Improvement League, Tujunga Valley Realty board and the Ora Vista Farm bureau. The Sunland Chamber of Commerce will be host to the other organizations and will serve refreshments.

Special invitations have been issued to the La Crescenta Improvement association, Montrose Chamber of Commerce, Verdugo City Association of Commerce and the Roscoe chamber, to be present and participate in a discussion of improvements affecting the Verdugo hills districts and the San Fernando valley.

MONTROSE NOTES

MONTROSE, June 30.—The Herrick Studio held its formal opening on Saturday when each visitor was presented with a package of incense. Miss Herrick is the owner of the Herrick Studios in Palo Alto. The studio is located in the Stephen Myers block.

Mrs. Bine Smith is entertaining as her guests her sister and niece, Mrs. E. M. Harrison and daughter Lois of Catalina Island.

Among the newcomers to this community are Mr. and Mrs. Hietel and Mr. Pringle who have rented the south flat in the Drainger duplex on Ocean avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Davids are also newcomers, having rented the White house on Glenada avenue, just off Ocean View.

Captain and Mrs. Green entertained Mrs. Garret Layton of Los Angeles over the week-end at their Ocean avenue home.

DESCRIBE LIFE SEEN IN GREECE

Work of Near East Re... Explained In Letter From Abroad

EAGLE ROCK, June 30.—In a letter to Ada O. Randall of Pasadena, her sister, Mrs. Cora R. Conklin of this community writes from Greece to say that thanks to American philanthropy, the Near East Relief is caring for 100,000 children still in the refugee camps.

Mrs. Conklin is visiting her niece, Mrs. John Erhardt, wife of the American consul at Athens. Her letter says in part:

"Today I visited the Zappeon exhibition palace which has been turned over to the Americans by the Greek government, and I saw several thousand healthy children eating the noon-day meal of American food. Hundreds not at tables were being treated for favus, a contagious scalp disease; still others were receiving treatment for trachoma, an infectious eye disease of the Orient. I was told that those I saw at meal time had all had this treatment in the earlier stages of their stay.

Prolong Visit

Mrs. Sam Appleman, with her young daughter, Miss Sylvia Appleman, of Salt Lake, is the house guest of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Max Pepper. Mrs. Appleman and Sylvia had planned to be in Eagle Rock for two or three weeks only, but they are already becoming so charmed with the district as a place of residence that they hesitate to say when they will leave it. They have already decided that they would like to make their future home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Malone, newly married couple who were wedded Monday, June 9, are in Arizona where they will spend two weeks visiting with Mr. Malone's parents, whose home is in Phoenix.

The bride was Miss Pauline Gardenhire, 18 years of age, who this spring completed her senior year at the Glendale Union High school. She formerly resided at 4976 Royal Drive.

REPORT APRICOT CROP IS SMALLER

Valley Growers Find Fruit Outlook Is Slim for 1924 Season

LANKERSHIM, June 30.—The 1924 apricot crop of the San Fernando valley will be no more than 50 per cent of normal, according to preliminary surveys. The early fruit is already coming in. The second week in July is expected to see the peak.

To date there has been little activity locally among buyers seeking the crop of apricots. This condition is said to be due, in all probability, to the fact that valley peaches are practically a failure this year. By reason of that failure, buyers have been busy in the territory where both peaches and apricots are grown. This is especially true in the case of the canneries, as the apricot crop at best runs through only about three weeks, keeping the canneries busy while they are waiting for the peaches to ripen.

Valley Bankers Meet

The bankers of San Fernando valley held an enjoyable and profitable get-together and social meeting at the Encino Country clubhouse, and, after discussing conditions and prospects throughout the valley decided that the interests of the public and of the financial institutions themselves would be advanced by permanent organization. James Wilson of the Lankershim First National bank was made temporary chairman and L. E. Bliss of Van Nuys secretary.

A. D. McNeely of 4414 Lankershim boulevard is seriously ill at his home, having recently suffered a paralytic stroke. Mr. McNeely is one of the pioneers of this district and has many friends who are hoping for his recovery.

Public NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN: that the Street Superintendent of the City of Glendale has filed with the Clerk of the Council of the City of Glendale the assessment for the Opening and Laying Out of Chestnut Street from the easterly line of Glendale Avenue to the westerly line of Granada Street and from the westerly line of Lots 10 and 12, Block 8 of Byram, Patterson and Miller Subdivision as per map recorded in Book 39, Page 80 of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County, California, to the westerly line of Adams Street, in the manner contemplated by Ordinance of Intention No. 562, together with the diagram of the district to be assessed therefore.

The date of the first publication of this notice is the 30th day of June, 1924. All persons interested are hereby required to file, in writing, their objections, if any they have, to the confirmation of said assessment by the Council of the City of Glendale, with the said Clerk of the Council, within thirty (30) days after the said date of the first publication of this notice.

A. J. VAN WIE,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale and Clerk of the Council of the City of Glendale.

Sunland Residence Wiped Out by Fire

SUNLAND, June 30.—A frame house belonging to A. E. Kretz, Second and Central streets, Sunland, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday morning before the volunteer fire fighters could respond to the call. A loss of $2000 was partially covered by insurance. Fire Chief Harry Rice answered the alarm, but the flames had gained headway that could not be checked.

The Case of Jennie Brice — Serial Story

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART. Copyright, 1924.

CHAPTER XXXI

It was old Isaac. He had a basket in his hand, and he stepped into the hall and placed it on the floor.

"Evening, Miss Bess," he said. "Can you see a bit of company tonight?"

"I can always see you," I replied. But he had not met himself. He stepped to the and, opening it, beckoned little one across the street stood Lida!

She came in. The crowning heightened, old man's life—back, be his Miss Bess and lieve it together.

"Is he here yet?" she asked nervously.

I did not know he was coming." There was no need to ask which "he." There was only one for Lida.

He telephoned me, and asked me to come here. Oh, Mrs. Pitman, I'm so afraid for him!" She had quite forgotten Isaac. I turned to the school-teacher's room and opened the door. "The woman who belongs here is out at a lecture," I said. "Come in here, Ikkie, and I'll find the evening paper for you."

"'Ikkie'!" said Lida, and stood staring at me. I think I went white.

"The lady heah and I is old friends," Isaac said, with his splendid manner. "Her mothah, Miss Lida, her mothah—"

But even old Isaac choked up at that, and I closed the door on him.

"How queer!" Lida said, looking at me. "So Isaac knew your mother? Have you lived always in Allegheny, Mrs. Pitman?"

"I was born in Pittsburgh," I evaded. "I went away for a long time, but I always longed for the hurry and activity of the old home town. So here I am again."

Fortunately, like all the young, her own affairs engrossed her. She was flushed with the prospect of meeting her lover, tremulous over what the evening might bring. The middle-aged woman who had come back to the hurry of the old town, and who, pushed back into an eddy of the flood district, could only watch the activity and the life from behind a "Rooms to Let" sign, did not concern her much. Nor should she have.

Mr. Howell came soon after. He asked for her, and going back to the dining-room, kissed her quietly. He had an air of resolve, a sort of grim determination, that was a relief from the half-frantic look he had worn beiold us asked to have Mround the brought down, and with his all, four of us my mending, table—Mr. ith one of Lida's note-books under his on the and the oth.

ant to tell all of you the story," he began. "Tomorrow I shall go to the district attorney and confess, but—I want you all to have it first. I can't sleep again until I get it off my chest. Mrs. Pitman has suffered through me, and Mr. Holcombe here has spent money and time —"

Lida did not speak, but she drew her chair closer, and put her other hand over his.

"I want to get it straight, if I can. Let me see. It was on Sunday, the fourth, that the river came up, wasn' it? Yes. Well, on the Thursday before that I met you, Mr. Holcombe, in a restaurant in Pittsburgh. Do you remember?"

Mr. Holcombe nodded.

"We were talking of crime, and I said no man should be hanged on purely circumstantial evidence. You affirmed that a well-linked chain of circumstantial evidence could properly hang a man. We had a long argument, in which I was worsted. There was a third man at the table—Bronson, the business manager of the Liberty Theater."

"Who sided with you," put in Mr. Holcombe, "and whose views I refused to entertain because, as publicity man for a theater, he dealt in fiction rather than in fact."

"Precisely. You may recall, Mr. Holcombe, that you offered to hang any man we would name, given a proper chain of circumstantial evidence against him?"

"Yes."

"After you left, Bronson spoke to me. He said business at the theater was bad, and complained of the way the papers used, or would not use, his stuff. He said the Liberty Theater had not had a proper deal, and that he was tempted to go over and bang one of the company on the head, and so get a little free advertising.

"I said he ought to be able to fake a good story; but he maintained that a newspaper could smell a faked story a mile away, and that, anyhow, all the good stunts had been pulled off. I agreed with him. I remember saying that nothing but a railroad wreck or a murder hit the public very hard these days, and that I didn't feel like wrecking the Pennsylvania Limited.

News Notes From Studios

A big ovation was accorded Rex Beach's famous play, "The Barrier," which opened last night at the tent of Murphy's Comedians on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, between Brand boulevard and Broadway. Excellently acted, the dramatic strength of the offering gripped the audience.

While the rest of Glendale is threatened with darkness, within the tent there is no lack of illumination and the show will continue uninterrupted until the final curtain falls at 11 o'clock. This, states Manager J. A. Menard of the comedians, is because they have their own lighting facilities.

Every night this week, promptly at 8 o'clock, "The Barrier" will be presented by Murphy's Comedians. Those who wish front seats may come as early as 7:15 o'clock, Mr. Menard states.

BARBER SHOP IS WINNING SUCCESS

Expert Operators Employed To Care for Needs of Men and Women

A new, sanitary and up-to-date barber shop and beauty parlor, opened in Glendale early this month by Dr. Harriet Hillings and Joseph Van Riper at 327 South Brand boulevard, has filled a demand in this city for a high class barber shop that specializes in first class work, combined with absolute sanitation, together with a beauty parlor with expert operators, according to the managers, and they report a growing patronage.

The five-chair shop is completely equipped with all modern appliances and electrical equipment. The four other barbers employed by Mr. Van Riper, the manager, are Wesley Warren, C. Martine, Jim King and Burt Taylor. The beauty parlor operators are Miss Smith and Miss Conway. Dr. Hillings, the manager, has also secured J. Adcock, an expert in marcel waving and hair-cutting, to be had by appointment.

All kinds of beauty work will be handled, including marcelling, shampooing, facial and scalp treatments as well as women's, children's and men's hair-cutting. Hot baths are open at all times for public use. The shop is attractively finished in white enamel and furnished with wicker chairs and settees.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BATH TUB

"Well, Nurse Jane, are you ready to go?" called Uncle Wiggily to his muskrat lady housekeeper one morning.

"Oh, dear!" sadly sighed Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I'm afraid I can't go with you. I have such a dreadful tail ache! It came on all of a sudden. I shall have to lie down. You go off to the seashore by yourself, Uncle Wiggily. Don't mind me."

"Nonsense" kindly said the rabbit gentleman, hopping into the bungalow where Nurse Jane was wrapping a rag, wet in ice water, around her long tail. "Of course I won't go without you. If you have a tail ache, and can't go today, we shall wait to visit the beach until next week."

"Oh, I know you will be so disappointed!" sighed Nurse Jane, as she went to her room. "You have been counting on spending this week-end at the shore."

"Yes," admitted Mr. Longears, "I have, but it will do me no harm to stay home and look after the bungalow while you lie down. We shall enjoy ourselves all the more next week."

"This is kind of you," murmured Nurse Jane, and then she took some medicine to make her tail ache better, and closed her eyes.

There were no two ways about it—Uncle Wiggily was sorry he could not go to the seashore. He and Nurse Jane had planned a little picnic, but, at the last moment, when they were ready to start, the muskrat lady was taken with a dreadful tail ache.

"What I wanted most of all," said Uncle Wiggily to himself, as he sat on the shady porch, "what I wanted was a bath in the salty ocean. That's why I was going to the shore."

"There is no reason why you can't have the same kind of a bath here in your bungalow," said one of the Squiggle Bugs, who was visiting the rabbit gentleman.

"How can I have an ocean bath at home?" asked the bunny.

"Easily!" laughed the Squiggle Bug. "Put on your bathing suit, fill your bath tub with water, put a lot of salt in, and a little sand from the garden, start your electric fan and take a swim. My brother and I will shout: 'Hot peanuts! Popcorn balls!' and it will seem just like the seashore."

"Ha! Ha! I'll do it! That's a good trick!" laughed the rabbit. So he put some salt and sand in the bath tub filled with water, and jumped into his bathing suit. "Now for my ocean bath!" he cried, while the Squiggle Bugs, out on the porch, shouted about popcorn, peanuts and roasted frankfurters.

"It's just like the beach!" laughed the bunny as he splashed in the water.

Now, as it happened, the Woozie Wolf had been slinking past the hollow stump bungalow while the Squiggle Bug was telling the rabbit how to have a make-believe ocean swim in his own bath tub.

"Oh, ho!" growled the Wolf to himself. "This is my chance to catch Uncle Wiggily! I'll slip in the back way, go up to the bath room, and easily catch him while he's in the tub. It will be a good trick!"

Nurse Jane, lying asleep in her room with the tail ache, did not see the Wolf slink into the bungalow. Nor did the Squiggle Bugs, for they were out on the front lawn, singing about peanuts and popcorn balls. So the first Uncle Wiggily knew about it was when the Wolf pushed open the bath room door and cried: "Boo!"

"Oh, my goodness! How you frighten me!" gasped the bunny.

"I'm going to do more than frighten you!" snickered the Wolf, snickering being a very impolite form of speaking. "I'll do more than frighten you—I'll mobble you!"

Uncle Wiggily had the wet cake of soap in his paws, and when the Wolf said this the bunny squeezed the soap very hard. Now you know what happens when you squeeze a wet cake of soap—it slips out of your hands; doesn't it? Well, that's what happened to Uncle Wiggily.

"Zoop!" the soap sailed from his paws and "Bang!" it struck the Wolf in both his eyes. "Slosh" went a lot of soapy suds all over the bad chap.

"Ouch! Wowzie! Gazinka!" howled the Wolf. The soap's in my eyes! Give me a towel!" and he didn't even say "please."

"You'll get no towel from me!" cried the bunny, and he splashed salty water on the Wolf, until the soap in the bad chap's eyes smarted him so that down the stairs he ran. Half-way down he stumbled and fell, bumping his nose very hard.

"Oh, this is my unlucky day!" growled the Wolf as he ran away off in the woods to find a spring of water where he could wash the soap from his eyes.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily, as he climbed out of the bath tub. "I had as good a salt water swim as I could have had at the beach, and I also had an adventure. This was my lucky day."

And the Squiggle Bugs sang about peanuts and popcorn balls. So, if the grasshopper doesn't try to jump over the load of hay and get his legs tied in a knot around his neck, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Sammie's blower.

Heart and Home — Health and Happiness

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Doctor—Enclosed please find eight cents in stamps for two pamphlets on reducing. I have sold mine to another person who is following your instructions. I did weigh 252 and in six weeks I have reduced twenty-one pounds. I notice my heart does not bother me any more. I am feeling fine now. I have to reduce forty pounds more. It is a little harder now than it was at first.—C."

I hope you made good profit on the pamphlet, C. According to reports, it is worth its weight in diamonds. I don't know whether the office sent you two or not. The rule is to send only one to each inquirer (returning excess postage). We get orders for them by the dozen, and are asked to give them to institutions, clubs and the like; but we can't do this, as the pamphlets are intended only for readers of the newspapers which publish my daily articles.

It always is a little bit harder to reduce after the first excess fat is off, but don't be discouraged. Even though you lose only one pound a week, in a year that will be fifty-two pounds—and that's some loss!

A.—Yes, adenoids and enlarged tonsils may cause one to sleep with the mouth open, if they are enlarged enough—so that the throat passage is obstructed. If this condition is allowed to go on, very grave physical and mental retardation may be manifested. Deformities of the nose and mouth and chest, and general conditions such as malnourishment, anemia, bedwetting, nervousness and many other symptoms, can result. If these enlarged tonsils and adenoids do not abate by living out of doors in the fresh air, with exercises and proper diet, they should be surgically removed. There is nothing so striking in the improvement of a child after the removal of obstructive tonsils and adenoids.

"Dear Doctor—I write you this day with the express intention of creating in you the spirit of a public and individual benefactress. My purpose is twofold:

First, I am a young man, 18 years of age. My hair is falling out and is rapidly receding on my forehead. Kindly advise me what I should do.

Also I find a great deal of trouble with my speech. My voice is bass. I intend to study law and find that my greatest handicap is my voice. Whenever I talk it seems to me that I have real trouble in being understood. My nasal passages in the nose become dry and my voice sounds very crackly. This makes it hard for others to understand me and I find it both embarrassing and troublesome. My throat also becomes dry.—"Sid."

Dear Sid:—About all I know concerning the hair, I included in some articles we published recently. We have those articles in pamphlet form now; they will be sent you on receipt of the required s. a. s. e. At your age, there is evidently some local or constitutional cause for your falling hair. Have you had a physical examination?

Your voice condition will probably straighten out in a short time. You perhaps are not out of the period of adolescence where the voice does crackle and croak occasionally, as it changes to the adult man's voice. The way you describe it, it would seem that nervousness and self-consciousness might have something to do with the condition. Practice in your room reciting—slowly and distinctly—bits of poetry and good prose. Keep yourself in the best of physical condition, with the proper diet and exercises, such as I am talking about all of the time in this column. If you find you have a real speech defect, there are physicians who specialize in this disorder. Thank you, Sid, for your honorable intentions toward me.

Mrs. B.—You are forty pounds overweight and you have diabetes. You should be under the care of a physician, and you must reduce gradually. He will give you specific directions, for you have to have a special diet.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Tells Old Testament Prophecies of Christ

"The life of Christ as revealed in the Old Testament Scriptures," was the theme of a discourse by Rev. R. W. Parmele Sunday evening at the Seventh-day Adventist church on North Isabel street.

"The whole Bible," Mr. Parmele said, "is the revelation of Jesus Christ. Jesus said to the Jews, "Search the Scriptures, for . . they are they which testify of Me.' He meant the Old Testament scriptures, for at that time not a line of the New Testament had been written. Peter, speaking on the day of Pentecost, declared that the death and resurrection of Christ had been foretold by 'all the prophets from Samuel and those that follow after.'

"The birth of Christ was foretold in Micah; Christ's message is given in Isaiah; and Christ's death is described in Isaiah.

Rev. Parmele announced that the subject would be continued the following Sunday evening.

Christ's Teaching of Life Is Sermon Topic

Rev. C. M. Calderwood of the Congregational church chose as his subject for the Sunday morning sermon, "Christ's Interpretation of the Christian Life," and pictured the interpretation as taught in the great school of which Jesus was the master. He told of Christ teaching this life as revealing the possibilities and potentialities of man and as a constant warfare against those things that are evil. In bringing out the beauty of such a life, he explained the necessity of service and sacrifice in its accomplishment. A large congregation was in attendance at the evening services at which the devotional exercises were followed by the showing of slides and motion pictures of the Glacier National park.

Low Building Company Transfers Its Lease

On July 1 the Low Building company transfers its lease at 416-18 East Colorado street, Glendale, to the Homecrafts Corporation. In order to give more direct attention to the buildings in the Pasadena territory the Low Building company, authorized distributors and builders of Pacific Ready-Cut Homes for Glendale and Pasadena, have decided to move their main office to Pasadena, and henceforth will be located at 396 East Colorado street, Pasadena. All buildings in Glendale, La Crescenta valley, Eagle Rock and vicinity will be handled through their Pasadena office.

McDill, just on general principles. Albert Johnson was first when it came to throwing washers at a line.

The prize for the "best dressed woman" on the grounds went to W. L. Twining, whose svelte figure appeared to advantage in a lavender gown. "Bill" wore heavy earrings, a heavy winter coat of cosmetics, rolled his own and smoked a big cigar.

Urges Park System

President Peter Hanson reported on the recent national convention of real estate boards at Washington, D. C., at which he was a delegate from the Glendale board, and his comparison of conditions in Glendale and other Southern California cities with those he encountered back east carried an optimistic message to all who heard him.

Mr. Hanson roused the enthusiasm of his hearers when he called attention to the park that has been donated to the city by the Haddock-Nibley company, and declared that the time is now ripe to work for the establishment of a series of city parks for Glendale, where the residents of the city could have recreation facilities such as are an absolute essential for both the children and the older people.

Gilmore Oilers Win Over Catalina Cubs

The Gilmore Oilers handed the Catalina club its second defeat of the season yesterday when they invaded the Magic Isle and took a 4 to 2 game. Bob Wallace, former Seraph hurler, was the hero of the game. He allowed the Islanders only six hits and fanned twelve men. In the fifth inning, with the score tied, Wallace hit a homer, bringing in two scores ahead of him. Ennis, former White Sox catcher, got two triples.

El Segundo Shut Out By Merchants, 5 to 0

The Pasadena Merchants cinched second place in the Summer league by defeating the El Segundo team 5 to 0 yesterday. The game was played at El Segundo. Lefty Manker, on the mound for the Merchants, allowed only three hits, two of these coming in the second inning. Bell started for El Segundo, but was yanked at the end of the fourth inning, Keltus finishing the game.

Wed in Whittier

The marriage of Miss Emma King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. King of 339 West Colorado street, to Jack McFarland of Whittier, took place Sunday night, June 29, 1924, at the home of Miss King's aunt in Whittier. Only a small group of relatives and close friends were in attendance.

Miss Helen Lohnson of Los Angeles attended the bride, while Homer King, brother of the bride, was best man.

Miss King wore a gown of white georgette, trimmed with Spanish lace. Orange blossoms held her veil in place. The bridal bouquet was of bride's roses, lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern. A wedding supper was served at a prominent hotel in Los Angeles.

After an extended trip north Mr. and Mrs. McFarland will reside in Whittier, where he is employed by the C. C. Julian company.

Entertains Club

Mrs. Lionel Wolfe of 809 North Central avenue, presided over a delightful affair Friday when she entertained the members of the Friday Bridge club with a beautifully appointed luncheon and afternoon of bridge.

The decorative color scheme was carried out in red, white and blue, with flags and a profusion of flowers. The luncheon table was beautifully decorated in the same colors, with place cards, bon bon baskets and candy firecracker favors marking the guests' places.

After luncheon the afternoon was devoted to bridge, at which Mrs. R. L. Young was awarded first prize, Mrs. Charles Young second, and the hostess consolation prize.

The guests were Mesdames Jones Crawford, John Munn, Walter Wilson, Roy Wrenn, of Hollywood, and Mesdames Will Tanner, R. L. Young Charlie Young, of Glendale. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Roy Wrenn's home in Hollywood, it is announced.

Presents Pupils

Miss Helen Constance Morgan presided over a most delightful social affair Friday night, when she presented a large group of her piano pupils in a recital at her residence studio, 1280 South Boynton avenue. There were a number of parents and friends in attendance.

The music room and living room of the Morgan home had been decorated with a profusion of gladioli and ferns.

Each of the pupils showed remarkable training in technic, and was accorded most deserving compliments for interpretation and execution of some very difficult compositions.

A feature of the evening was the vocal selection by Mary Claire Morgan, who sang one of Miss Irma Lucas' compositions, "The River."

Party a Success

The card party given Friday night by the members of the Glendale chapter, O. E. S., U. D., at the Masonic temple, proved to be a most enjoyable and successful affair. Over 100 members and friends were in attendance.

There were nineteen tables of bridge and five-hundred. Prizes for high score at five-hundred were awarded to A. Hewitt and Mrs. Blanch Berg, and for bridge to Mr. Berg and Dr. Elizabeth Early. Consolation prizes were awarded to Hugh Allen and Mrs. E. Carvel.

The members of the chapter wish to thank the members and the merchants who donated the prizes. At a late hour refreshments of home made cake and ice cream were served.

Children Elect

Election of officers for the ensuing year of the juvenile auxiliary of the Glendale Music club was the feature of the meeting held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Pearl G. Curran at 214 East Chestnut street.

The meeting commenced at 2 o'clock and was the last meeting of the season before the vacation recess.

The following officers were elected: President, Marguerite Chappell; vice-president, Beechan Lauderdale; recording secretary, Eloise Knaus; corresponding secretary, Edwin Dodds; treasurer, Genevieve Marek.

A short program was also presented during the afternoon by six members of the auxiliary.

Philathea Class

The Philathea class of the First Methodist church will hold its regular monthly business meeting tomorrow night, Tuesday, July 1, at the home of Miss Marjorie Bowers, 827 East Colorado street, at 6:30 o'clock.

A cafeteria dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock, followed by the regular business session at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be in attendance, as the report of the nominating committee will be made at this time. The regular election of officers will take place the first Tuesday in August.

Meets Tuesday

The Glendale branch of the Women's Association of Macabees is to meet Tuesday night in the American Legion hall at 610 East Broadway. It is announced that the organization will meet the first and third Tuesday nights of each month instead of Wednesday as originally planned.

Announcement

Miss Ruth B. Johnson and Charles H. Neller of Glendale were united in marriage Saturday afternoon, June 28, 1924, at a quiet ceremony by Rev. E. E. Ford, pastor of the First Baptist church. The ceremony was solemnized at 3 o'clock at Rev. Ford's home, 326 Fairview avenue.

Gordon Laird Winner In Match at Oakmont

Gordon Laird was the winner of the Blind Bogey sweepstakes run off yesterday at the Oakmont Country club and was awarded a prize of a dozen golf balls. Laird turned in a card with a net score of 76. Runners up in the tournament were C. I. Hatz and Max Green with net scores of 77. Qualifying scores for entry in the Bogey were between 70 and 80.

Elmer Holland, professional at the club, reports that the course is holding up well under heavy playing and is in very good condition considering the length of time it has been in. A large number played over the course yesterday but the entries in the Bogey were small, only twelve competing. The Ringer tournament now under way is progressing nicely, according to Holland, with fifty-five entries to date.

DEATHS – FUNERALS

MRS. R. M. TAGGART

Mrs. R. M. Taggart of 537 Fisher street, Glendale, died Saturday, June 28, 1924, in Omaha, Neb., at the age of 73 years. Her death followed a severe attack of heart disease. Mr. and Mrs. Taggart were en route east by motor, when she had an attack with her heart in Lodge Pole, Neb.

Their automobile was abandoned there and Mrs. Taggart was taken to Omaha for treatment. Her death occurred an hour after reaching there.

Funeral services were to be held today at Palmyra, Neb., the Taggarts' former home. They came to Palmyra in territorial days and were married there more than a century ago.

Mrs. Taggart is survived by her husband and one son, John H. Taggart of Omaha.

CRAIG E. STUMPF

Craig E. Stumpf, 535 Spencer Place, Glendale, passed away at 9:10 a. m., today, Monday, June 30, 1924, at the Good Samaritan hospital, Los Angeles, where he had been a patient for the past three weeks, aged 54 years.

Mr. Stumpf is survived by his widow and by his son, James, aged 17 years. He came to Glendale a year and a half ago from Lodi, Calif., engaging in the real estate business as the senior member of the firm of Stumpf & Caldwell, but for the past four months he had been suffering from the malady that caused his death.

The deceased was born in Indiana, Pa.

Funeral arrangements will be announced as soon as the family's plans can be completed. The Jewel City Undertaking Company is in charge.

At Christmas time, 1920, there probably were only about 50 sets of mah jongg in this country, now they number in the hundreds of thousands.

They brought home with them nearly 50 pounds of mountain trout. They made the trip with Mr. Lee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed M. Lee, and son Kenneth of 345 North Belmont street. They plan on spending four or five weeks there.

Pleads for Return To Family Devotions

Speaking on the subject, "Christian Homes," Rev. Ernest E. Ford delivered a powerful sermon yesterday morning at the Baptist church, pleading for a return to the family altar and for a place for God in the home. He said in part, "The greatest need in America today is not trade revival or legislative enactments so much as a return to the religion of our forefathers.

"A large majority of the crimes committed today are by those under age and this is due to a great extent to a lack of parental authority. The biggest blessing any parent can give to a child is a knowledge of God and of obedience to His laws."

The service of baptism was held in the evening.

Mr. Ford spoke on the necessity of conserving light in the present emergency and urged his audience to assist in the necessary measures to meet the situation.

Prepare Program for July 4th Celebration

Plans for the municipal celebration at Patterson Park on the Fourth of July are rapidly nearing completion, R. Ernest Tucker, superintendent of recreation, announced today. The program of games, athletic contests, swimming matches and sports will start about 2:30 o'clock that afternoon and will be for boys and girls.

The playground directors of the city will be in charge of the various sport events. Appropriate prizes will be awarded to the winners in all contests. A complete list of the events, prizes and donors will appear in this paper tomorrow.

The prizes were donated by the merchants of Glendale and secured through the work of a committee of the Glendale Merchants association. Members of the committee are: Albert Cornwell, D. L. Gregg and W. B. Potter. The prizes are on display in the windows of the Gregg Hardware Co., 107 North Brand boulevard.

Sparr, and her sister, Mrs. Adeline Harter of 234 South Jackson street, entertained as luncheon guests Saturday at the Oakmont Country club, Mrs. Charles Tydings of Ocala, Florida, and Mrs. Davis of Eagle Rock. Mrs. Tydings, who is an old-time friend of the Sparr family, came to California as a delegate to the recent biennial convention.

Mrs. G. G. Briggs, who makes her home at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, is looking forward with great happiness to the arrival, July 9, of her niece, Miss Mary Louise Seydel from Lansing, Mich. Miss Seydel has visited in Glendale before. On this occasion she will spend several weeks here and will then leave for the east in time for the fall semester at Wellesley college, where she is to be an instructor in astronomy.

Three Letters Start For East by Airplane

Three letters bound for eastern points constituted the first mail to leave Glendale this morning for transit east of Salt Lake City under the new airplane mail schedule, which becomes effective tomorrow. These letters were sent to Salt Lake City by rail, and will arrive there in time to connect with the eastbound plane leaving Salt Lake at 2:25 p. m. tomorrow.

Mail for airplane service must be in the postoffice not later than 8:10 a. m., daily, to insure connection with the plane at Salt Lake, Postmaster Jackson said. Special airplane stamps must be affixed, or if regular stamps are used, the letter must be marked "via air mail." The postage rate is eight cents an ounce to Cheyenne; 16 cents an ounce to Chicago, and 24 cents an ounce to New York.

Barnum-Walters Plan Verdugo Hills Dinner

Invitations have been issued for a dinner Wednesday night at Sparr Heights, given by the Barnum-Walters company. Those invited are to meet at 4:30 o'clock at the community center building, Sparr Heights.

The invitation says "We wish to show you what can and is being done to develop the Verdugo Hills and what the future holds in their further development for the owners of the property, the public at large and the city of Glendale. More particularly, we want to bring to your attention a tremendous enterprise, which, if it be carried to completion, will vastly increase the value of every tributary acre and will be of incalculable value to the city of Glendale.

Dinner is to be served under the oak trees at the foot of the Verdugo hills.

Surgeons Operate on Patients at Hospital

A minor operation was performed last night at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital on Mrs. V. A. Van Pelt of 543 Salem street. Billy Sleer of 215 South Kenwood street underwent minor surgery this morning at the same institution.

THE MOST Delightful HOME

That we have ever seen offered for $10,500 is the following:

A Two Story Stucco (entirely sheeted with 1x6 boards) in Beautiful Bellehurst.

Downstairs there is a cheerful, Cozy Living Room, Tapestry wall paper, furnace, etc.—a Dining Room that DOES NOT open from Living Room. This is one of the pleasantest rooms in the house, with double French Doors opening on to patio and lawns—Another room with separate entrance, also full of windows, is suitable either for Bed Room or Library—A Cloak Closet, Hall, Complete Modern Kitchen, (tile sink) back porch and toilet, complete the ground floor arrangement.

Upstairs there are two very large bed rooms either of which would accommodate twin beds, and an Up to date Tile Bath Room.

There is a double garage, built-same as house—Beautiful Clover Lawns, front and rear—with shade trees, etc.

WE HAVE NEVER BEFORE OFFERED A BUY LIKE THIS FOR $10,500—REASONABLE TERMS.

WHITE SOX TEAM GET WIN NO. 20

Van Nuys Fall Before Local Aggregation, Robertson Is Hit Hard

The Glendale White Sox continue to make and break records, their twentieth consecutive victory being turned in yesterday when they defeated the former semi-pro champs of Southern California, Van Nuys, 8 to 2, at the San Fernando road ball park. It was a game filled with plenty of thrills and aside from the fifth inning, when the pale hose wearers opened up their barrage, the contest was one that kept the fans on edge.

Robertson, former Coast league hurler, who once worked for Los Angeles, lasted only five innings against the White Sox. Carl Sawyer and his crew got next to him for five hits in the fifth, which netted six runs, and Waterfield finished the game.

Reiger worked in tiptop shape, fanning seven men and issuing only two passes. While they got next to him for ten hits, only one of them accounted for a run. Reiger turned in a good day's work with the stick, getting a single and a sacrifice hit in four times up, and counting one of the Sox' eight tallies.

Sawyer Scores Hit

Carl Sawyer, manager of the team, connected for a double and a single, but his greatest hit came in the seventh. With the game on ice, Carl went in to uncork some of the tricks that have made him famous as a baseball comedian. His antics stopped the game for the time being, but everybody had a lot of fun.

Van Nuys scored in the fifth. Hobson walked and was advanced to second on Taylor's bunt. Robertson hit a double, scoring Hobson. Allenton singled and Robertson scored when Sawyer threw wide to catch him at third.

The Sox' first score came in the opening frame. In the fifth, Sullivan, first man up, walked and took third on Reiger's single. Young got a double, scoring Sullivan and Reiger. Dorman walked. Shields' bunt advanced Young and Dorman. Sawyer singled, scoring Shield and Dorman and scored on Shellenbach's single. Shelly scored on Orsatt's single, but was caught at second, stealing. Hirigoyen flied out to Smeltser.

FOUNDER OF CLUB IS GIVEN THANKS

Members of Organization Express Appreciation To A. T. Cowan

That the "Past Eighty Year Olds," of Glendale who are gathered together in The Glendale Evening News Sunset club, find much happiness in the meetings they enjoy from time to time, is shown in a note received this morning from the club members by A. T. Cowan, publisher and owner of The Glendale Evening News. The note was written Saturday at the club meeting with Mrs. Della R. Stone of 446 West Broadway. The club writes to Mr. Cowan:

"As members of that unique organization, The Glendale Evening News Sunset club, we wish to express to you sincere appreciation for the part you have had in contributing to our happiness.

Share in Happiness

"We are all within the light of the sunset of life and we assure you that each one of us heartily appreciates all The Glendale Evening News has done to bring us together for informal sociability.

"Through your interest the club has been organized and carried on without any responsibility to the members. Our meetings are always most enjoyable and since we seldom see you personally for a word of greeting, we are sending this note to express to you our heartfelt thanks for your generous share in our happiness."

Lumber Shipments and Sales Show Big Gains

SEATTLE, Wash., June 30.—North Pacific lumber sales and shipments are both on the increase, according to latest reports from the mills. Last week production amounted to 90,000,000 feet and sales to 97,000,000. Shipments totalled 96,000,000 feet.

LIBRARY POLICY TOLD BY PRESTON

President of Board Explains Plans With Regard to Southern Branch

T. W. Preston, president of the Glendale Public Library board, has issued the following self-explanatory statement in connection with the approaching bond election:

"The trustees of the Glendale Public Library desire to make it clear why the south branch library was not provided for in the bond issue to be voted upon July 8 next.

"It is evident that the present quarters of this branch library are wholly unfit for the purposes of such an institution, situated as it is in an old building which also houses a fire station immediately adjacent, as well as the city health department overhead. These activities, in addition to the fact that the building stands upon one of the very busy corners of the city, create conditions contrary to those which should exist. It is very certain that before very long this property will be disposed of and a suitable building or buildings erected in a less congested location, where the south branch will have adequate space and proper surroundings. Bearing these considerations in mind, and having been advised by the city attorney that money derived from a bond issue could only be used for new construction and not for alterations or changes in an existing building, the library board felt compelled to eliminate from the proposed bond issue that portion which was originally a part of it, and which was to be used for the south branch, but this by no means implies that the citizens of South Glendale are not to be taken care of. On the contrary, a new system has been adopted which provides that a patron of the south branch may make a request for any desired book and Mr. Cushing, the librarian, will procure the book if on the shelves of either the main library or its branches. Though a slight delay will ensue, the above arrangement will give everyone, wherever he or she may live, the opportunity to obtain any book the city libraries possess.

"Beyond this the board may be relied upon to take care of the people and their library needs whether they may reside in the southern, the northern, or the central districts. The main library is wholly inadequate, the branch in the Grand View district must evacuate even the little 12 by 12 room in the store-house of the school building, and now we ask the southern section of the city to be patient and make the best of conditions which the Library Board is unable to change but will endeavor to improve so far as is at present possible. New books will be added to this library in the same ratio as the population served requires and as the capacity of the building permits."

Tyburnia, a wealthy and fashionable quarter in London, was once a place of execution called Tyburn.

THOMPSON LOSES IN GOLF FINALS

Glendale Youth Fights Hard To Win But Outplayed By Texas Star

Harold Thompson, Glendale's youthful golfer who has been placing high in tournaments throughout Southern California, by defeating veterans at the game, lost a hard-fought contest to Jack Tarrant, Hollywood Country club entrant, yesterday in the finals of the California Country club's annual invitation tournament.

Tarrant defeated Thompson 2 and 1. The winner recently invaded local tournaments after a successful season in Texas. He gave Kirkwood keen competition last winter in the Texas open championship. Thompson worked into the finals by defeating Jack Neville, veteran and winner of many tournaments, 4 and 3.

Steady putting won the match for Tarrant. He was out in front all the way. Thompson fought a game uphill fight, and is credited with playing a game such as seldom seen on the links.

First elevator of the modern type was shown at the World's Fair, New York, in 1853, but passengers were not carried until 20 years later.

WILL TAKE OVER LEASE, BUILDINGS

Homecrafts Corporation to Carry Out Contracts Of Local Firm

On July 1 the Homecrafts corporation, a close corporation, being incorporated under the laws of the state of California, with a capitalization of $100,000, will take over the lease and buildings of the Low Building company, 516-18 East Colorado boulevard, Glendale, which it has purchased.

The officers of the corporation are: A. Ellart Nelson, formerly of Glendale but now residing in Eagle Rock; William von Platen of Los Angeles and Svend Raasted, formerly of Detroit, Mich., but for the last six months of Glendale.

The new corporation has purchased twenty-one well selected building sites in the Rossmoyne tract, on which it contemplates the immediate erection of high-class residences, which are to be offered for sale at from $10,000 to $25,000 each.

Retains Executives

For its office personnel, it has retained the future services of Mr. Collins and Miss Percy, now with the Low Building company. It also retains the plans for the first unit of five homes to be built on Mountain and Rossmoyne avenues at an aggregate cost of $40,000. Ground will be broken on or around July 7, and it is the program of the corporation to finish its twenty-one homes before 1925.

The corporation is also taking over the real estate department of the Low Building company, at 100 East Colorado boulevard, in which department it retains the services of Mrs. Hibben and E. Landes.

Mr. Nelson has had a nation-wide experience in the building of high-class residences, store, office and apartment buildings, and has during the last two years superintended all of the large buildings being constructed in Los Angeles by John M. Cooper, architect, Marsh-Strong building.

Wide Experience

William von Platen has for a number of years been engaged in the cement contracting business in Los Angeles, having just completed a contract for twenty-eight houses in the Wilshire district.

Mr. Raasted has during the last fourteen years been engaged in the real estate business, partly in the Canadian northwest and partly in Detroit, Mich., in which time he has become thoroughly experienced with every branch of that business.

Thus in every branch of the building and real estate business will the Homecrafts corporation be in a position to give the utmost service to its clients, it is pointed out.

MERCHANTS SIGN POWER PETITION

Association Members Back Plans for Municipal Plant at Meeting

Members of the Glendale Merchants' association today lent their support to the movement for a municipal power plant when they signed the petitions prepared by the emergency committee of the Kiwanis club. The action was taken at the regular meeting held today noon at the Alley Inn, and followed a brief discussion on the power situation.

The members, in signing the petition, expressed their desire for a municipal plant, and for auxiliary engines to be installed immediately at the city's pumping stations to bring relief at once. This petition, along with others now being signed, will be submitted to the City Council Thursday morning.

Mrs. E. V. Bacon, who was introduced by Dr. Jessie Russell, spoke briefly on the industrial show planned by the Thursday Afternoon club. The show will be held at San Fernando and Brand boulevards, July 16 to 24. The association did not act favorably on the request for support toward the show.

Give Picnic Prizes

Albert Cornwell, chairman of the prize committee, reported many of the merchants had donated articles to be awarded at the municipal picnic July Fourth, at Patterson park. Other members of the committee are D. L. Gregg and W. P. Potter.

President C. J. Hatz, presided at the meeting. H. A. Kent was acting secretary in the absence of Frank Pilling, who was injured last week in an automobile accident.

Three Drown In Lake As Snake Fouls Oar

LOS ANGELES, June 30. — Three people were drowned in Gray's lake near the Chatsworth reservoir in the upper San Fernando valley yesterday when a water snake entangled an oar of the rowboat in which they were riding. The dead are Frank, his wife Rita, and sister Agnes.

At Anaheim Landing lifeguards rescued Mrs. Bertha C. Drotzman and Mrs. Howard Killan of Los Angeles after Miss Mildred Drotzman had held them safely in the breakers when they got over their depth.

The British government will subsidize one commercial air transportation concern $5,000,000 in the next ten years.

MAN, WOMAN DIE IN DUAL KILLING

Pasadena Merchant and Wife Of Realtor Are Slain In Beach Tragedy

LOS ANGELES, June 30.—Henry B. Myers, wealthy department store owner of Pasadena, and Mrs. Theresa Doris, wife of G. B. Doris, wealthy Long Beach realtor, were shot and almost instantly killed during last night in the Doris home at 59 Atlantic avenue, Long Beach.

Doris, who was found by the police today pacing up and down the floor in an adjoining room in a highly nervous state, was unable to give the police a coherent story of the tragedy, muttering over and over in response to questioning, "She died defending me."

Business difficulties are believed to have led to the tragedy.

Quick Action Is Easy For Municipal Plant

municipal plant. As soon as the plant was in it would be the work of only a few hours to hook up the proper switches, and everything would be ready to go.

"Of course, the main thing right now is an auxiliary engine for the pumping stations. A year ago I took up the matter of gas engines for these places. I talked to the manager of the Southern California Gas company and was promised a very low rate on gas. I also got figures from firms making gas engines; in fact, I turned over to the proper department of the city complete figures, costs, etc., on installing gas engines.

"If these gas engines were in now, there would be enough electricity furnished Glendale for all uses. Since this light shortage announcement was made, I have talked to Peter Diederich, and he tells me that saving the power now used in pumping water would mean no dark hours for Glendale.

Pasadena Plant Buys

"I was city electrician in Pasadena and was largely instrumental in securing the municipal plant for that city. Pasadena is building a large addition to the plant now, which is one of the biggest of its kind in Southern California for a city that size.

"I can truthfully say that, although more than $1,000,000 has been spent to install and bring the Pasadena plant up to the point of perfection it has reached, it has not cost the residents of that city one nickel. Every cent that plant cost has been paid back in the way of reduced rates.

"I am not taking issue with city officials, or with officials of the Southern California Edison company, but am working for the good of Glendale and the future welfare and advancement of the city.

"When Pasadena was buying electricity, before and talk of a municipal plant was heard, the rate was 20 cents a kilowatt hour. The day the mayor issued his statement favoring such a plant, the rate was cut to 15 cents. When the bonds were voted it dropped to 10 cents. Further and more drastic cuts followed, until the rate reached 4 cents, a drop of 16 cents.

"The city of Pasadena, by reason of having its own plant, has been able to buy electricity cheaper than they can manufacture it. Under the state laws which were passed recently, Pasadena was able to save all southern California millions of dollars.

"That plant is still being used. Today Pasadena is selling power to the Southern California Edison company. It is a standby plant, that is, one ready to be used in cases of emergency.

"Here is another thing. The announcement of the curtailment of light said, on account of this unforeseen situation, it would be necessary to reduce current in Glendale and other cities.

"Two years ago, John Mulholland, the southland's great engineer, predicted a cycle of dry years, to last possibly seven years. He quoted meteorological records and reports in support of his theory. He foresaw what is happening today. He predicted it would happen. In my estimation, the Edison company had ample opportunity to prepare for such a situation."

Milwaukee Shops Cut Payroll, Reduce Hours

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 30.—Several thousand men have been laid off in the local shops. The situation has been relieved somewhat, however, by cutting hours and days of work, thus affording some work for the largest possible number.

Motion Picture Firm Defendants In Suit

LOS ANGELES, June 30.—Indications that the motion picture theatre business is not what it should be is seen in a suit filed this morning by the County National Bank and Trust company of Santa Barbara against the West Coast Theatres, Inc., the largest theatre concern in the southwest, having interests in practically all cities.

A $12,500 note, due June 19, and unpaid, it is alleged, is the subject of the action.

Organize Plate Club To Buy Silverware

Women who have desired to add to their silverware, are offered an opportunity to do so through R. L. Cole's Community Plate club which was started today to continue for an indefinite period. By the club method many designs of beautiful silverware may be secured with a small payment down and the balance in small weekly payments.

All the popular designs are now on display at Mr. Cole's jewelry store at 106 East Broadway. "Cole's Cheerful Credit" is a motto that has received the approval of a great many of the women shoppers of Glendale and the firm expects to make many new friends through the club offer. It is Mr. Cole's purpose to put as many pieces of the celebrated Community Plate in as many homes as possible during the campaign.
